The contest for the Republican nomination for member of congress from this district promises to be a lively one, and the forces are being marshalled for the opposing candidates. The friends of Mr. E. L. Miller, opponent of Hon. J. Adam Bede, are doing as a member of congress from this district, principally through a few newspapers, whose owners are sore because they were not given fair appointments by the administration. Their principal grievance seems to be that Mr. Bede has managed to become one of the most wanted campaign speakers in the district. "HOW DELICIOUS!"

Such is the opinion of all who have once tasted

CEYLON AND INDIA TEA Packed only in Sealed Lead Packets to preserve its many excellent qualities.

John Keaton felt particularly tired at the end of that day. His back ached as he stooped to pick up his empty dinner pail, and there was no spring to the step that he took as he left the shop.

So deliberate had he been in his movements since the whistle blew that he was almost the last man to leave. Higgins, the foreman, and Anderson were the only ones who had not already started for their homes and their evening meal.

For several minutes John deliberated upon the proposition of riding home on the car, but finally decided to walk and save the nickel.

"It won't hurt me none to get out in the open air this way," he said, and he trudged along. His wife took him up the hill, and he did not walk fast. It was long after 4 when he reached the square where stood the little house which sheltered him, his wife and their little flock.

John went out on the little back porch. "Where's yer maw?" he asked of the twins.

"Dunno," said Pete. "Who's Annie?" "Cross the street playin' with Tillie Peterson," vouchsafed Johnnie, who was named after his father.

Then a terrible fear thrust itself upon John Keaton for the first time. His wife's absence seemed oddly counted for before, but now it looked ominous, and he was much worried.

"Self-help" will come to mean more to you than a pair of words, yoked together, if you get into the habit of reading 'The Herald' want ads.

THE POLITICALS.

The near approach of primary election day has acted as a spur to the energies of the political candidates. The aspirants for various county and legislative positions are scurrying about the city and county in their search for votes, and more activity has been displayed during the last week than at any time since the "open season" for politicians began.

But even at that, there is no great amount of interest manifested in things political, except by the candidates themselves, and a few close friends. This is an era of unequalled prosperity in this part of the country, and it is in almost all other parts, and the people seem to be too busy with their own affairs to get excited over the affairs of others.

The same condition prevails all over the state. Even the gubernatorial situation fails to develop any great amount of interest. The re-election of Governor Johnson is conceded, and the voters don't seem to want to be bothered with the issues of the campaign.

The group on the back platform of the car was discussing the drama. "Yes," said the man who evidently boarded the car at Lakeside, "I always liked Chauncey Olofin and I never miss seeing him when he comes to town. Of course, I don't know how much he has made since he got out of the pen."

The Lakeside man and one or two other closer students of the stage who were about, sported with contempt the idea of Mansfield appearing in a musical comedy like "A Chinese Honeymoon."

In the eighth, nothing so sensational as this developed, but Mr. Millar and Mr. Bede have been flying around at a rate calculated to keep even the most disinterested from forgetting that they are in the field for political office.

This isn't the first speech of the campaign for Mr. Bede, although the others were not supposed to be of a political nature. He spoke at the Woodmen's picnic at Two Harbors last Tuesday, and made a good impression.

Members of the Democratic county committee will not be selected until after the holding of the state convention next week, according to Mr. Fester, and the men who will represent this county on the state convention will be selected upon the day of a big convention.

There was a difference of opinion throughout the state as to whether Aug. 28 or 29 was the last day for filing. The county auditor's office at St. Louis county announced two or three weeks ago that filings would be accepted on Aug. 29, but County Auditor Halden later ruled that Aug. 28 was the last day on which filings were accepted.

As a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, I respectfully ask the support of the voters at the primary election, Sept. 18, promising to fill the office to the best of my ability if elected, and in the fairest possible manner.

Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you—and then take the sting out of it with a Herald want ad.

(Continued from page 1.) That the governor will make a characteristic speech in accepting the nomination, but he will more fully discuss the issues and give an account of his stewardship at the formal opening of the campaign.

While there has been an evident intention to start a fight on Frank A. Day as chairman of the central committee in one or two quarters, indications now are that a contest will be held by the Hennepin delegation.

CHARLES E. ADAMS

Charles E. Adams, a candidate for the Republican nomination for county attorney, is also on the range this week. He is a lawyer and citizen, he asks for the support of all citizens who desire a clean, vigorous official administration of this important office.

WOULD SMIRCH HERRMAN.

Oregon Prosecution Accuses Him of Giving Advance Information. Portland, Ore., Sept. 1.—The prosecution in the Blue Mountain forest reserve land fraud case yesterday attempted to prove that the person who gave out the advance news that the commissioner of the land office had recommended the temporary withdrawal from entry of the lands in the reserve was none other than Congressman Binger Herrman.

Two filings were received and rejected because they arrived too late. One was by John G. Wirth of La Porte, Hubbard county, who wanted to be a Prohibition candidate for the house in the Fifty-third district, and the other was H. W. Sherman of Big Falls, a Public Ownership candidate for the house in the Fifty-second.

In a recent issue of the Grand Forks Herald, Governor Johnson comes in for high praise. This is doing pretty well considering that the eulogy comes from one of the leading Republican organs of that state.

A Democrat, he was elected governor of a Republican state by a large majority in a presidential year, and in a campaign in which the national Republican ticket was given a very large majority. This of itself has been sufficient to place him in the limelight.

has been sufficient to place him in the limelight. And in his administration he has succeeded in avoiding anything like violent opposition, aggressiveness was called for. His recommendation to the railway commission resulted in a substantial reduction of freight rates, of which the people of his state receive their share of benefit.

The lists are closed in the coming Minnesota primaries, and the majority of the Republican members in congress from this state seem in no serious danger. The Republican and Democratic members who have filed are as follows:

First district—Republican, James A. T. McHenry; Democrat, Andrew French, Plainville. Second district—Republican, James T. McHenry; Democrat, A. H. Hall; Democrat, Gustave Scholte and John L. Gleske, St. Paul.

Fourth—Republican, Fred C. Stovencen; Democrat, E. C. Tift; Long Prairie, and C. D. Angor, Little Falls. Seventh—Republican, A. J. Volstead, Granite Falls. Eighth—Republican, J. Adam Bede, Pine City, and E. L. Millar, Duluth.

WHEAT OFF DULUTH

Local Market Closes Lower, But Most Others Little Higher. Flax is Just Fairly Active and Slightly Off Here.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 1.—After opening strong, wheat closed regular in the American markets. Both the September and December options had a soft tone in Duluth during the early part of the session, but were lower at the close.

Local conditions affecting prices in the different markets, this being the first day for the delivery of September wheat. Minneapolis, New York—wheat closes an hour earlier than Duluth on Saturdays.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The flour market is firmly held. The millers report the domestic inquiry showing a little improvement. Shipments show a little increase.

The physical condition of the mines of these companies has improved 100% to 500% in thirty days. The mines are being actively developed and are becoming great producers of bullion. They will soon become great dividend-payers.

All of these stocks are now selling for cents, and, in our opinion, most of them will soon be selling for dollars. Six months ago, Goldfield Mohawk sold for 44 cents per share. Hundreds of sales have been made of this stock at $4.40 per share since.

The opportunities are identical. No one realizes this more than men on the ground who are buying these standard Manhattan stocks with all the money they can lay their hands on.

Follow the lead of men who are on the ground. They "take a look for theirs," and they never buy until they are convinced by personal observation of mine showings at close range. They never make a mistake.

CATTLE MEN SEEK RELIEF

Ask Commission to Reduce Charges Made by Railroads.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Shippers of the country are taking advantage of the new railroad freight rate law to seek relief from the interstate commerce commission for what they regard as unreasonable or unjust conditions imposed upon them by the railroad companies. Many petitions to this effect are being received by the commission. The Texas Cattle Raisers' association yesterday entered a complaint against the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway and many other railroad corporations, because of a charge of $2 a car on livestock made from the terminal railroad at Chicago. The complainant maintains that the charge is excessive and unreasonable and that it ought to be included in the through rate on carloads of live stock from Texas to Chicago. The interstate commerce commission decided several days ago that the charge of $2 a car, as a transfer or terminal rate in Chicago, was excessive. It fixed $1 a car as the proper tariff. The case was taken to the supreme court of the United States and the order of the commission, fixing $1 a car as the rate of the terminal charge in Chicago was overturned on the ground of lack of authority. Now under the new law, the complainants again appear before the interstate commission and ask that the case be reopened and that the commission decide it in the light of the new act. Another complaint is that of the American Live Stock association and the Texas Cattle Raisers' association against the Texas & Pacific Railway company and practically of the other railroad lines west of the Mississippi river. It is urged by the complainants that the defendant company refuses to make a joint through rate on live stock in carload lots, shipped from points in Texas to the market centers, such as Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City. "Small service is real service—while it lasts," and Herald want advertising is real advertising—and for a thousand lines of type.

THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER.

Sensational Melodrama Will be Presented at the Lyceum. The startling revelation found between the leaves of an old family bible, disclosing to an escaped convict and tramp the identity of his daughter as a most beautiful and accomplished young lady, who has been adopted and reared by a Southern colonel of distinction and fortune, surprises the convict, so much that his better feelings overcome him and then and there he resolves that, for his daughter's sake he will become a better man in future and an honor to his child. The secret of her birth is revealed, however, by Col. Gould himself when the hand of his supposed daughter is proposed for by a young Southern gentleman. His rival, however, hears of the story also, and in order to win her himself he tries to take advantage of the same. The girl's own father makes his appearance at this unucky moment and the rival lover remembers him as an escaped convict, and threatens to send him back to prison unless he aids him to win the girl's hand. The author has provided an American play for an American public, full of startling surprises and dramatic climaxes. A clever company of players, each one selected for his or her personal characterization, a wealth of beautiful scenery and effects, including the marvelous approaching freight train, and during escape of the convict, "Weary Willie," makes this a powerful dramatic play and one cannot afford to miss it. "The Convict's Daughter" will be at the Lyceum Sept. 8, with a matinee the same day. JUVENILE CRIME ON INCREASE Humane Officer Says Young Offenders Are Numerous This Summer. Officers of the Humane society have recommended that radical measures must be taken to check the increase of crime among the young girls in the city and that they "must be kept at home and off the streets at night." The case of Melvina Flavel, 17 years old, is an example showing the downward path some of the girls are taking. She was in juvenile court three weeks ago and placed on good behavior by Judge Ensign, who warned her where her course was taking her if she did not reform. He commanded that if she did not go home and behave herself she would be sent to Red Wing. Instead of going home she went to the home of friends on Park Point who accommodated her and who, it is asserted, have been under surveillance of the Humane department for some time. After interviewing the girl's mother at Arnold, and finding that she had not been at home, Officer Withrow began a search for her and yesterday morning arrested her. She will be taken to Red Wing today without further process of law. The Humane officer states that there has been a great increase of crime among juveniles this summer in Duluth. At the annual meeting of the Humane society Sept. 15, recommendations will be offered by Officer Withrow toward placing the youthful offenders under proper control.

ADDRESSES DEMOCRATS

Wm. J. Bryan Attacks Republicans for Lack of Policy.

Roosevelt's Popularity Comes From Following Democratic Principles.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 1.—The visit of William J. Bryan to Connecticut yesterday must have strongly reminded him of the strenuous days during his presidential campaigns, for he delivered four addresses, each of considerable length, attended two receptions and was the center of handshaking bees whenever his admirers could reach him. All this was crowded between noon, when he reached this city, and the hour of his retirement at night as the guest of Former Senator Archibald McNeil of Bridgeport. Mr. Bryan said in the course of his address to New England Democrats, that New England never had been a "good breeding place for Democracy." Jefferson had never considered it so; neither did Jackson. Mr. Bryan at the meeting on the green spoke for three hours. He said among other things: "I have found that the government is to a very large extent an accurate reflection of the intelligence of a people, for where there is great ignorance there is usually very bad government. Where the people are not trained to study and do not for themselves understand the issue, they are taken advantage of by those that do understand. And I have been encouraged to find that everywhere there is a tendency to enlarge the sphere of education, for it means that there will also be growth in the government towards perfection. "Now, today the Democratic party has a policy. The Republican party does not outline the policy as the Democratic party does. The president today is embarrassed by the fact that you can search with a magnifying glass the platform on which he was elected and you cannot find one single promise of reform on any subject. It has made the president's task difficult. The trouble with the president has been that when he tried to do anything, he had to whip the Republicans in line with the Democratic platform instead of the Republican platform. And the trouble with the Republican party in this campaign, is that its motto is 'stand pat; defend what you have; don't promise anything more.' They say stand by the president. Well, my friends, the only way you can stand by the president, if he really wants reform, is to give him a Democratic congress to back him up instead of a Republican congress. "My friends, I believe that a private monopoly is an indefensible thing. You cannot find a Republican platform that denounces the principle of monopoly. The line is going to be drawn. We are going to find out who is in favor of exterminating a trust, and who is not in favor of it, and the line is going to be drawn on that principle. The man who is in favor of regulating it might just as well take off his mask and declare himself, for you cannot regulate private monopoly—it regulates you. "I tell you that arbitration is a fanciful thing. I tell you that the president of the United States has to his credit a great achievement. He settled the coal strike after a loss of $9,000,000. I glory in the fact that he settled it. I think it is one of the proudest acts of his official capacity, but my friends, I am not satisfied that he shall have any strike settled, after a loss of $9,000,000. I want a system that will make it unnecessary for a man to starve his wife in order to fix the price by which he can live. "But no American can travel through other lands without feeling his heart glow with pride that his lot was cast in the United States. I have never felt so grateful in my life as I have since I have seen the Old World that a kind Providence cast my lot under the Stars and Stripes. Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 1.—Mr. Bryan, last night, spoke in Bridgeport on the trust, tariff and labor questions. For an hour he assailed the Republicans on their attitude toward public questions. He said the Republican party had had a chance to repeal every law that has not contributed to the peace, happiness and prosperity of the people, but failed. On the tariff question, he said the policy of the Republican party had contributed to the worst and there was no promise of reform. "The high tariff is made by the manufacturers. Its blessing does not prevent the party members from threatening its overthrow, but the men who made the tariff now demand their blood money. Moreover, the tariff is antagonized by every other nation; it makes them raise barriers. Germany was overjoyed at the beef scandals. It was said there of the United States, 'if you won't let us sell to you, we won't buy of you.' In England, two years ago, during a great discussion of the fiscal question, the doctrine of retaliation was advocated. Mr. Bryan referred to the last speech of President McKinley, which was a plea for reciprocity, and said that since the death of the lamented president, his party had absolutely failed to heed that advice. "My friends," said Mr. Bryan, "there is a great revolution in the Republican party. Ten years ago the Republicans said they could go out into the street and pick up a man anywhere who could be elected president; six years ago they said there were hundreds who could be elected; today they say there is only one man who can be elected on a Republican platform, and that man has been following Democratic principles. Is there any lesson in that?" In the course of his discussion of the trust question, Mr. Bryan said he held the opinion that President Roosevelt had not lived up to his opportunities in prosecuting the trusts.

STRIKE BREAKERS UNRULY.

Men Bound for San Francisco Have to be Locked In.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 1.—Two trains carrying 850 strike breakers reached Ogden last night and departed later for San Francisco. The first train was made up of men from Philadelphia. While the first train was here the windows and doors were closed and locked, and the men were virtually held prisoners. At Green River, Wyo., they raided the depot hotel, and since have been held in restraint. The men in the second train mingled freely with a great crowd of local unionists drawn to the station by their coming. They nearly all claimed to be in sympathy with unionists, and a committee sent a communication to the local papers saying they were only taking advantage of a chance to reach California. While crossing the state of Wyoming yesterday the strike breakers organized and made a demand for better food and more of it, and threatened to leave the train in a body.

President Roosevelt Says New Spelling Will Depend on Popularity.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 3.—In a letter to Charles A. Stillings, public printer, made public yesterday, President Roosevelt writes that if the changes in spelling advocated by the simplified spelling board and put into use in official documents meet popular approval, they will be made permanent.

It encloses herewith copies of certain circulars of the simplified spelling board which can be obtained free from the board at No. 1 Madison avenue, New York City.

Speaking from a personal standpoint, the reception accorded to him were very gratifying. Speaking from a political standpoint, I think that they showed a marked change in public sentiment.

The reception which my neighbors at home are receiving will be a gratifying one, but it can hardly be regarded as anything more than a matter of course.

GETTING STENSLAND'S MONEY FROM FOREIGN BANKS MAY BE DIFFICULT

State Department Studying That Problem With Much Concern.

May Have Sums in Other Banks Than at Tangier.

Relations of United States With Morocco Not Clearly Defined.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The state department is more greatly concerned over the steps taken to tie up a deposit of money which had been made in a bank at Tangier, Morocco, by Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank of Chicago than with the extradition of the fugitive banker himself. Acting Secretary of State Adee is giving the question his personal attention.

It is the impression that no international complications would arise if authorities quickly kidnaped Stensland and returned him to this country for trial, but it is clearly a different question when it comes to the recovery of money deposited in a foreign bank regardless of whether the money was stolen or not.

Four dispatches were received at the state department today from Illinois authorities, two from Governor Dineen and two from State Attorney Healy.

While these were not made public it was stated that all were in the nature of appeals to the department that it do everything in its power to extradite Stensland. The authorities are confident of the success of their efforts to overcome in view of the fact that there is no extradition treaty between this country and Morocco.

At 11:30 o'clock the delegates lined up in front of the hotel and paraded down to the Bijou, headed by the Hennepin delegation and the St. Paul delegation, with his band.

Intervention Has Not Been Considered—Rebels Attack Town.

Havana, Sept. 4.—President Palma in an interview with the Associated Press, puts an end to any expectation that he would make any concessions whatever to the rebels beyond the offer of pardons already extended. The president said he could not possibly make such concessions either now or hereafter and could not see in any event what the government could offer beyond what had already been done.

That matter has not been under consideration because we believe we can stand the situation without any outside aid. We shall put down this senseless rebellion by force and I would be only too glad to see it brought about and pledge my word that there will be no examination of those who committed this unpatriotic deed.

Concerning American intervention, President Palma said: "That matter has not been under consideration because we believe we can stand the situation without any outside aid."

Seattle, Sept. 4.—A dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer from Bellingham says: The United States cruiser Boston foundered at low tide in a fog on the rocks off Peabody Island, in the straits of Rosario, twenty-two miles from here at noon yesterday.

The officers and crew of the Jones are at the service of their fellows on the cruiser. The men are at work all night keeping down the water.

Tacoma, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Bellingham to the Ledger says: The cruiser last night in a disaster boat, Captain Coffman of the cruiser Boston, said:

"We are not in a sinking condition, or I should have beached the cruiser as soon as we reached the harbor. The pumps are all working and are disposing of the water easily. I cannot estimate the extent of the damage, but there is nothing to fear. We were simply displaced and carries 300 men."

Minnesota's Governor is Again Choice of Democrats.

F. G. Winston of Minneapolis Chairman of the Convention.

W. S. Hammond of St. James Makes Nominating Speech.

Minneapolis, Sept. 4.—Amid scenes of great enthusiasm on the part of the assembled delegates, Governor Johnson and a complete state ticket were placed in nomination this afternoon by the Democratic state convention, which is in session at the Bijou theater in this city.

The convention was one of the shortest and most harmonious on record, and the nomination of Governor Johnson was hailed with a storm of applause. In barely an hour after the convention had been called to order, the numerous preliminary steps had been taken, and Governor Johnson declared the nominee of the Democratic party for governor.

The convention was one of the largest held by the Democracy of the state in recent years. Out of 1,248 delegates entitled to seats it is believed that considerable over a thousand are on hand. The West hotel lobby and parlor floor was thronged with Democrats all morning. Each delegation visited the state committee headquarters, in one of the parlors, turned in their credentials, and received badges. There was a lively buzzing, but most of the talk was over the organization rather than the ticket. Shortly before 11 o'clock the Ramsey delegates arrived in two special street cars, and marched into the lobby, headed by the Auditorium band of St. Paul. Mayor H. A. Smith leading the line. They were cheered by the other delegates.

At 11:30 o'clock the delegates lined up in front of the hotel and paraded down to the Bijou, headed by the Hennepin delegation and the St. Paul delegation, with his band.

The flames threatened the general store of W. A. Epperson, but this building was saved. The burning embers were carried over a block by the wind and threatened the Sherman House, Herald building, J. F. Ryan's grocery store, and other buildings. The Ryan store caught fire several times, but small damage was done. An overheated range was the cause of the fire which gained great headway before it was discovered. There is no fire protection here but the volunteer bucket brigade did good work.

WEST DULUTH WILL CLOSE ON SUNDAY

Dry Goods Merchants Will in Future Observe the Sabbath.

Petition is Circulated and Signed by Practically Every Proprietor.

A movement has been started among the West Duluth clothing and dry goods houses for Sunday closing and it has met with almost universal support among the merchants and business men of the western end of the city. It has not been the custom for this class of stores to give their employees the Sunday off, and they have kept their full force of clerks at the stores all day though there was comparatively little business and the extra day was often run at an actual loss to the merchant who kept open simply because his competitors did so.

M. Madson, who is employed in Kastner & Newman's clothing house, has circulated an agreement which practically all the West Duluth merchants in the clothing and dry goods lines have signed and which announces that the signers will close their places of business on Sunday, commencing this week. He says that the merchants were all glad to come to this agreement in regard to Sunday closing and were all anxious to sign.

Those who have signed are as follows: Kastner & Newman, George Harris, M. L. Levy, A. Feldman, Stevart Shoe company, P. S. Johnson, A. Freimuth, Hendricks Dry Goods company, Frank Brand, M. Caplaw, G. Johnson Shoe company, and P. J. Blais.

WEST DULUTH COWS Will be Tested for Tuberculosis Next Thursday Morning.

Commencing next Thursday morning at 8 o'clock the health department, under the direction of Dairy and Food Inspector H. Moeller, will commence testing the cows owned in West Duluth for tuberculosis. Those cows which at the old city pound at the corner of Sixty-first avenue west and Grand, this test is only for those cows which have not yet been tested, and while it is compulsory for milk dealers to have their cows tested in this way, others who wish to do so may have their cows tested free of charge.

The test will be performed by Meat Inspector William Langslow and it will be necessary to leave the animals under his care for 14 days at least as the test occupies that much time. This will be the only test of this nature to be held in West Duluth for some time.

If any milk dealers fail to obtain a certificate of health from the department for their cows, they are liable to having their milk, they are liable to arrest under the city ordinance and it is understood that the health department intends to enforce this law.

MILLERS LOSE.

West Duluth Team Drops Second Game of Eveleth Series.

The West Duluth Universal Millers lost the second game of their series with Eveleth yesterday by the close score of 5 to 4. The game was exciting and close throughout, and was witnessed by a cracking attendance for that town, over 800 enthusiastic fans being on the field.

Ernie Larson pitched great ball, allowing the Millers but five hits, which, with the exception of a single, Wagner and Bush pitched as pitcher and backstop for Eveleth, and while the Millers found Wagner for seven safe ones, he got them at critical moments, and in the ninth, when the West Duluth boys had two men on bases and one gone, with a chance to tie the score with one run, he succeeded in retiring the side and winning the contest.

The scores by innings:
Millers 1 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 4
Eveleth 0 0 3 0 0 1 0 1 0 5
Batteries—Larson and Robinson, Wagner and Kusch.

HATS FOR MEN

Of course, we are proud of the fact that our Hat Department now sells many more of the elegant Knapp-Felt De Luxe Hats at $6 each season than were sold here in former years of the old-style $5 agency hats. The idea that the $5 hat, with a good old name in it, is the limit of hat perfection has died a natural death. The best dressed gentlemen of Duluth approved of our daring departure from old methods and are paying $6 for a hat that's worth it.

Knapp-Felt De Luxe Hat $6	Columbia Hat $3.00
Columbia Special $4	Columbia Common $1.90

But the reputation of our Hat Department and its growing popularity rests upon the high quality of our Columbia $3 Hat. There are many good $3 hats in the market, and to satisfy the demand we carry large assortments of Gordon and Young Hats, but we are certainly scoring a wonderful success with the Columbia $3 Hat, which is made to our order in the same factory that turns out the six dollar hats.

True to our policy of serving all conditions of men equally well, we sell the "Columbia Common" at $1.90, and venture to say that no $2.50 hat sold in this city is better.

HUMIDITY
VERY GREAT
Building in Washington Interfered With by Excessive Moisture.
Impossible to Comply With Some Provisions of Rate Bill.

Washington, Sept. 5.—So great has been the humidity in the Washington atmosphere during the present summer that building operations have been greatly retarded. By this it is not meant that the rainfall has interfered with bricklaying and setting, but the brick is saturated with water so that a degree of evaporation is necessary to dry the brick before it can be used.

The humidity has also interfered with the construction of the new department of agriculture building at the corner of the city. The building is now under construction and the humidity has interfered with the work in many ways.

In the ninety days since the first of June there have been less than fourteen days when rain has not fallen, and during the total of two weeks of clear weather the humidity has been so great that little or none of the surplus moisture was evaporated. The humidity has also interfered with the work in many ways.

S. S. CURES CATARRH
Catarrh cannot be washed away with sprays, inhalations and such treatment, nor can it be smoked out with medicated tobacco, cigarettes, etc. When you attempt to cure Catarrh with such things you are wasting time and allowing the impurities and poisons in the blood, which produce the disease, to get so firmly rooted as to become not only a disgusting trouble, but a very dangerous one. The annoying symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, "hawking and spitting," headaches, mucus dropping back into the throat, impairment to the senses of taste and smell, and a feeling of general debility, prove that there is a deep-seated cause for Catarrh. This cause is a polluted and unhealthy condition of the blood, and the disease cannot be cured until this is removed. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to purify the blood, and S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It is soon cleared the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this disgusting and far-reaching disease. S. S. puts the blood in perfect order, and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body Catarrh is permanently cured. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

MAY STORE UNDER BAY
Talk of Constructing Coal Receptacles Beneath the Water.
Plan Would Prevent Costly Fires at Bottom of Piles.

Instead of storing great quantities of coal in the open air on the big docks located in St. Louis Bay, there is some talk among Duluth coal dealers of the possibility of installing the new under water storage receptacles which, it is predicted, will save a considerable sum from having away quantities of coal in the shape of dust. The under water idea will also shut off all possibility of fire getting into the piles, which, in the past when the flames, starting spontaneously in the bottom of the piles, would scorch for weeks at a time before they could be checked.

The under water invention in the storage of coal has already been tried at one of the lake ports in the East and has been found to be a successful method of preserving the coal and preventing fires. As Duluth is one of the largest centers in the West, the new plan will be of great benefit to the coal trade. The plan is to dig a trench in the bottom of the bay, and to install in it a series of receptacles for coal. Grandfather's Cure for Constipation GREAT medicine.—The Sawbuck. Two hours a day sawbuck will keep anyone's Bowels regular.

Exercise is Nature's Cure for Constipation
Ten-Mile walk will do, if you haven't got a wood-pile.

Casarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles without work.
They don't Purge, Grip, nor "upset your Stomach," because they don't act like "Physics."
They don't flush out your Bowels and Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juice, as Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Apertives always do.
No—Casarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles, that line the Food passages and that tighten up when food touches them, thus driving the food to its finish.
A Casarets acts on your Bowel Muscles as if you had just sawed a cord of wood, or walked ten miles.
Casarets move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastric Juice.
The thin, flat, Ten-Cent Box is made to fit your Pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse. Druggists—10 Cents a Box.
Carry it constantly with you and take a Casarets whenever you suspect you need one.

Dalh. Me., Sept. 6.—William H. Taft, secretary of war, addressed a large audience at Alameda hall here last night, and was given an enthusiastic greeting.

As to tariff revision he is in this opinion: "Speaking from a reasonable opinion and for no other reason, I believe that since the passage of the Dingley bill there has been a change in the business conditions of the country making it wise and just to revise the schedule of the existing tariff."

Demands That Congress Enact Into Law His Will.

Leviston, Me., Sept. 6.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the national house of representatives, in an address here last night, criticized Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"Samuel Gompers has come into your district and demanded the defeat of Charles E. Littlefield, your representative in congress—not because Mr. Littlefield has failed properly to represent the people of this district or even the working men here, but because he has failed to comply with the demands of Mr. Gompers, who claims to be a citizen of New York and a resident of Washington."

"Mr. Gompers has introduced a new element into American politics. He does not exercise the right of petition, he demands that congress enact his law his will. He does not appear to you, he commands you, if you are a member of the federation, to vote as he would vote."

"On what merit does this new careerist make his different from other political bosses in this way of the federation of bosses? He is president of the American Federation of Labor, an honorable organization, which has achieved much for the wage earner and is capable of achieving more when properly directed."

Business Shows Fine Growth in Boyev.

Boyev, Sept. 7.—Business structures are being made up here in considerable numbers. A general mercantile store will be placed in one of these by H. Barron, whose building will be 32 by 100 feet, two stories, with stone foundation. The Lockery & Peterson building will be 32 by 70 feet, and George Rodevich is putting up a two-story building for a saloon, Lieberman Bros. have under way a one-story building, 24 by 75 feet, and the King Lumber company is building a new lumber shed. As soon as the Boyev Mercantile company can get lumber it will begin to build new quarters. Pelican Lake Will Then Grow Rapidly.

Virginia, Sept. 7.—When the Duluth, Virginia & Rainy Lake completes its line to Pelican Lake it is expected that the development of a town there will be rapid. As soon as railway facilities are had, farm produce may come from that district to the range and some people predict that the main source of the range's farm foods will soon be the Pelican Lake country. The land which has been put under cultivation has been found to be very productive.

Shippers Seek Advice on Best Means of Secure Cuts.

The Illinois shippers have begun a campaign for lower freight rates that is likely to be followed by concerted action on the part of other states of the West. Circulars have been sent out to members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the American Shippers' association, and the Illinois Shippers' association is circulating for an expression of opinion as to whether the best means to secure the desired result is in the form of a system of universal classification. This was the subject of a conference held in Washington the day before the new rate law went into effect.

Found on the Skin Phosphate

We know that active brain work throws out the phosphate of potash for this product is found on the skin after excessive brain work. Brain workers, in order to keep well, must have proper food, containing phosphate of potash, to quickly and surely rebuild the used up tissue. That one can obtain such food has been proven in thousands of cases among users of Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts. Both contain phosphate of potash in minute particles, just as it is furnished by nature in the grains. This product blends with albumen and makes the gray matter that builds the brain and fills the nerve centers. In no way can this gray matter be made except by the action of phosphate of potash upon albumen, and this mineral should be introduced to the body just as it comes from nature's laboratory, and not from the drug store. The human system is more or less fastidious about taking up the needed elements, and, as might be suspected, it will favor the products of Mother Nature rather than the products of the drug shop, however valuable they may be for certain uses.

PLUGGING UP MINE SHAFT.

Hancock Doing That in Order to Open Street. Hancock, Mich., Sept. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—It does not often happen, even in this mining country, that in order to open streets it is necessary to seal up shafts sunk deep into the earth. However, this is the spectacle being witnessed in the course of plugging the new southwestern shaft to Houghton, the county seat. It was here that were located the old Sheldon and Columbian copper mines, which subsequent to consolidation were closed down in 1870 and have not been operated since. At the point where Franklin and Sixth streets intersect, a mine shaft six by fifteen feet in dimensions is being closed, and probably in a manner that will suffice for generations. Fifteen feet below surface, the shaft is being covered with railroad iron, crossed, and to the level of the ground will be filled in with broken trap rock. The rails used for the longer dimension of the deep hole are plinths ten feet in length, and those which cross them are twelve feet long. The ends of the great bars are being solidly braced on hard rock. A short distance to the northeast another shaft,

LAKE FISH ARE SCARCE

Beginning of Close Season Will See Market Depleted.

None for Cold Storage—Basket Grapes Market Feature.

The end of the open season for fishing will find the Duluth market almost depleted of practically all varieties of lake fish for cold storage purposes. The scarcity all season has been the greatest in the memory of local dealers, and while the supply during the past week has been a little more plentiful than for some time past, the catch between now and Oct. 1, when the close season begins, will not be sufficient to tide the market over until Nov. 1, the opening of next season.

small they will be unable to do this year. Nothing but herring can be caught during October. The warm weather has had something to do with the small catches. Professional fishermen's luck depends a good deal upon the weather.

The supply from the inland lakes has been and is small, as well as from Lake Superior. Duluth wholesalers will probably have to fall back on Lake Winnipeg for their October supply.

Basket grapes are the leading feature of the fruit market just now. From this on the market will be supplied with Michigan grapes of the best quality.

Michigan peaches are also in evidence. A few cars were received this week, and they sold quickly. The quality was exceptionally good. The Michigan crop is reported short, and it is not expected that peaches will be much, if any lower. Colorado is shipping the famous Elberta variety quite freely, and it is believed by the dealers that the best time to buy this kind of fruit will be next week.

Receipts of Washington plums are liberal and in the opinion of dealers the market is now at its bottom. It is not expected that there will be much change in prices during the next week.

Crab apples are obtainable in almost any desired quantities at reasonable prices, but the season is short and will soon be over.

Sweet potatoes are here to gladden the palates of the lovers of this vegetable. Up to the present time only small shipments have been received, but beginning the coming week shipments will arrive in Duluth in carload lots, and the market will be lowered.

and green tomatoes, red finger peppers and pickling onions are on hand in fairly good supply, and the dealers say this is the best time to buy.

The poultry market has been freer this week, with more reasonable prices prevailing.

MUST TELL POSITION

Legislative Candidates Are Asked Concerning Ownership Ideas.

City Wants Privilege of Owning Its Electric Light Plant.

Through a resolution introduced by Alderman Wilson on Aug. 27, the common council is asking all the legislative candidates from the districts of which Duluth is a part to put themselves on record in writing to the council in the matter of municipal ownership of public utilities, particularly as regards the electric light plant. All the aldermen voted in favor of the adoption of the resolution, and all are understood to favor such legislation as will give Duluth the right to her own electric light plant if she so desires. Copies of the resolution are being sent out by City Clerk Cheate.

Senators Laybourne and Pugh went on the last session of the legislature, but the house members were not all of them put on record. The resolution is designed to get the opinions of all candidates, both new and those up for re-election. It is understood that there will be no one who will place himself in writing as opposing legislation of this kind. N. H. Hugo, candidate for re-election to the house, who was against the measure at the last session, said he would now favor legislation giving Duluth the right to own her own electric light plant, and it is understood he will have a communication read to that effect at the next meeting of the council. His opponent, Clarence B. Miller, has gone on record as favoring such ownership.

Following is the resolution:

"Whereas, there is a difference of opinion among competent attorneys as to whether the city has authority to issue bonds to acquire by purchase, condemnation or to construct a plant or plants for furnishing to the city and its inhabitants electric light and power;

"And whereas, as preliminary to proceedings to acquire such a plant or plants, it is necessary under the charter to have an estimate made by an expert engineer, which estimate will cost the city from $2,500 to $3,000;

"And whereas, it is certain that the question of the authority of the city to acquire such plant will promptly be tested in the courts when the city proceeds to acquire such plant;

"And whereas, there will be a session of the legislature in January, 1907, for which candidates are now seeking nomination;

"And whereas, the city would be put to great expense and would sustain an actual total loss of more than $4,000 in case the courts should hold that the city does not have the authority to acquire an electric plant, and issue bonds to pay therefor;

"It is resolved that this council defer taking further steps to secure a municipal electric plant until the legislature convenes at its next session and that in the meantime every honorable effort be used to secure the nomination and election of candidates for the legislature whose records and pledges are known to be unqualifiedly in favor of securing an additional legislation which may be suggested as necessary or advisable from the city's side of the controversy in order to put beyond all question the right and authority of the city to acquire a municipal electric plant and issue bonds therefor, after such proposition has been submitted to a vote of the people."

GOT IDEAS IN DULUTH

Winnipeg Buys Incinerator on Showing Made by Local Plant.

Committee That Investigated Garbage Burner Was Much Impressed.

On the strength of what the Decarie incinerator is doing in Duluth in the way of destroying garbage, the city council at Winnipeg has awarded a contract for the construction of a 200-ton incinerator of the same make, to cost $125,000. The new garbage burner will have just double the capacity of the Duluth plant.

Some time ago a committee of Winnipeg officials that was sent by the council of that city to visit all the municipalities in the states where garbage burners are used with a view of collecting all the information possible about incinerators, visited Duluth and made a thorough examination of the Duluth plant which had then been in operation for some little time. The members of the committee made careful inquiry of Dr. D. D. Murray, the city health officer, as to the original cost of the local incinerator, its successful operation, cost of maintenance and cost of fuel, and were greatly surprised and impressed when they learned that there is no fuel cost, the garbage burner having enough fuel out of the boards and refuse that is turned into it to supply all needs.

In the report submitted by the committee to the city council at Winnipeg the Duluth incinerator and Dr. Murray's answers to the question about the operation of the plant occupied prominent space. The report was printed in the Manitoba Free Press and that part relating to the Duluth plant and the recommendations to the council follows:

"After leaving Toledo we went to Duluth, where we made a thorough inspection of the Decarie incinerator, operating in that city. The wagons were arriving at the plant regularly, and with all kinds of material, including kitchen garbage, manure, rubbish and refuse, rotten fruits, fish, etc., from commission houses, and upon its arrival at the plant the material was dumped directly from the wagons into the furnaces. After watching from the operation on the dumping floor, we went down to the lower or furnace floor, and were shown the interior of the furnaces, also saw the manner of handling the material.

"We examined carefully the ashes as taken from the ashpit, and found that there was no unburnt material in it, but that it was all burned to a fine white ash. We also witnessed the operation of the evaporatory pan. The liquids were evaporated very quickly, and passed up through the lower grates and through the bright fire. The plant was immaculately clean, and there is no reason, with this system, why it should not be kept so.

"There were no odors around the plant, and none emanating from the stack. All that was visible coming from the stack was a fine white, dry vapor.

"After visiting the plant we called on Dr. Murray, the health officer, and put a great many questions to him in regard to the plant, its operation, etc., and we had some tabulated, and they were attached hereto.

"We find upon personal investigation that the cost of operation and thorough incineration and evaporation of all liquids, in a perfectly sanitary manner, in the Decarie plants at Duluth, Minneapolis, Spokane and Atlanta, Ga., is much lower than the guarantees they make.

"Taking into consideration the durability of the plant, the minimum liability of being shut down, the saving in the cost of fuel and repairs, and the knowledge and assurance we have of when the cost of material at present consuming all of the material at present on our dump by the Decarie system, we hereby recommend that the city accept the No. 1 tender of the Decarie Manufacturing company."

WOMAN PUMMELS STENOGRAPHER

Beats Face to a Pulp With Butt of Revolver.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Earle W. Patterson, aged 28 years, and Miss Flossie Davis, aged 18, engaged in a desperate struggle in rooms occupied by the latter in the Morton apartment house on Main street yesterday. Mrs. Patterson fired one shot but missed Miss Davis. The opponent screams of the girl soon brought police assistance, but officers found her face pummeled into a disfigured mess. Mrs. Patterson had resorted to the use of the butt of the revolver on Miss Davis' head and face.

Mrs. Patterson's husband is the only son of former Postmaster and present County Clerk R. I. Patterson, known as "Corporal Bob, the Army Post." The "Corporal" became jealous and caused a public scene.

On another occasion Mrs. Patterson, it is said, fought with Miss Davis in a leading shoe store. She had two revolvers when she found Miss Davis alone in her room. Mr. Patterson attributes the affair with the lady to jealousy and jealousy rage. Mrs. Patterson was released on a $500 peace bond furnished by her sister.

PICKED THEIR POCKETS.

Clever Indiana Woman is Finally Landed by Police.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 7.—Disgracing herself with wigs, Florence Woolton, alias Laura Hutton, is alleged by the police to have picked the pockets of many Marion men of late. The feature of her alleged operations has been that she extracted the cash from her victim's pocketbooks and then replaced them in the pockets from which they had been taken. The police say she has confessed.

Among her alleged victims are Edward Thompson, an oil operator who lost $155, and David Grasher, who lost $41. Thompson later met on the street the woman he believed had robbed him. He directed the police to where she roomed and her arrest followed. In her room a complete set of wigs was found. The description Thompson first gave of the woman who robbed him did not tally with that of the prisoner, but he identified one of the wigs as that which she wore at the time.

WILL NOT PAY FOR WOODEN LEG

Peculiar Suit is Begun Against a Pittsburg Dentist.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—Is a person's wooden leg part of that person? Does a man who marries a girl with a wooden lower limb also take said wooden limb for better or for worse?

These questions may be answered by the courts of Allegheny county, according to an appeal which has just been taken from the decision of an alderman here. Dr. Clarence Guckert, a Pittsburg dentist, has been sued by Dr. R. H. M. McKenzie for the recovery of $100, the price of a wooden limb furnished some years ago to a young woman who is now Mrs. Guckert. The suit was brought before Alderman Charles Anderson.

Former City Attorney Stephen Porter of Allegheny, appeared for the defendant, and the ground was taken that Dr. Guckert did not marry the wooden limb; that the wooden limb really was not part of the now Mrs. Guckert; that it had never been; that it was no more a part of her than was her gloves or finger ring.

Dr. McKenzie's side of the argument was that the husband was responsible for the bills of his wife; that when a man marries he is supposed to assume all the indebtedness of his wife. The argument was advanced that in case of his wife's death the husband would fall heir to her property.

Alderman Anderson decided that Guckert should pay for the wooden limb of his wife. Guckert at once appealed.

INSANE WOMAN KILLS CHILDREN

Farmer's Wife Decapitates Her Little Boy and Girl.

Columbus Grove, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Henry Knippen, wife of a farmer living near Cleveland, Putnam county, decapitated her two children, a boy aged 3 and a girl aged one and a half years, and then went to the home of a neighbor and told what she had done and asked them to go and see the children. The boys' head was nearly cut off and the girl's head was completely severed and was found near the body. A carving knife was used. The woman was discharged recently from the Toledo state hospital for the insane.

BEMIDJI EXCITED

Iron Ore Found in Making Excavation for Building.

Samples Taken to Assayers to Determine Their Character.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—What has every appearance of being iron ore has been found in Bemidji. The discovery was made a few days ago by workmen employed in excavating for the concrete foundation for the big Northland Produce company's warehouse, across the Great Northern tracks, and although it attracted little notice at first, as the real meaning of the discovery, should the find prove really to be iron, has dawned upon those who know of it, and excitement has grown steadily. Contractor George Kretz, who is building the structure, is so impressed that he has taken a sample of the supposed ore to Minneapolis and will have an analysis made to show his belief and the belief of everyone who has examined the ore. It is in the iron ore district, and that other discoveries will be made in the course of time. The interest is especially increased in view of the recent discoveries at Kellier, where less than a mile from the rear of the big building and consists of a vein half a foot deep running through a sand bank six feet or more below the surface and extending as far as the excavation on both sides, how much farther, of course, cannot now be known. In the same vein with the supposed iron ore are deposits of a golden tinted, glittering stuff, which has the appearance of being gold, but which is probably mica, or "fool's gold." To be certain, however, Mr. Kretz took along a sample of the "gold" also, and will have it analyzed.

AERONAUT LOST IN AN AIRSHIP

Goes Up Against His Better Judgment and Pays Penalty.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Oconto, Wis., says: After drifting helplessly fourteen miles, 2,000 feet above earth, in an airship he could not control, William Mattery, a Chicago aeronaut, who made an ascension from here last night disappeared from view. When last seen Mattery's unmanageable aerial craft was hovering uncertainly over Green bay, still buoyant and drifting out over Lake Michigan. Mattery made the ascension against his judgment, knowing that the machinery had been broken and spoiled. But the crowd so eager to see a man risk his life, declared that the story of a broken propeller shaft was told as a ruse to avoid making an ascension. Therefore Mattery went up just to "make good."

MRS. SCHWAB SERIOUSLY ILL.

New York, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Emma E. Schwab, wife of Charles M. Schwab, it was learned yesterday, is seriously ill at her home on Riverside drive. Mrs. Schwab is seriously, even dangerously ill, said Mr. Schwab tonight. "She is in the hands of surgeons, and has been so since our return from our country place at Loretto, Pa."

DELIGHTED AT HIS NOMINATION
Friends of Judge Pendergast Celebrate in His Honor.

Pendergast of this city for the office of lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, has been a source of satisfaction to all residents of Bemidji, regardless of political affiliation. The judge is one of the oldest settlers in Beltrami county and has a large personal following and the citizens of Bemidji gave him a royal welcome when he returned from Minneapolis last night. The Bemidji band headed a non-political procession of the people of Bemidji who regard the nomination of Judge Pendergast as an honor to the city. Together with several other residents of Bemidji, Mr. Pendergast started from Minneapolis Wednesday morning for Bemidji. When the train reached Bemidji a delegation of 100 citizens of that place took the candidate for lieutenant governor bodily, from the train and compelled him to remain over with them for a day. Pendergast lived in Eagle Bend for many years, and is very popular there. Office of Consolidated Elevator Co., Duluth, Minn., Aug. 31, 1906. On all grain and flaxseed received on and after Sept. 1, 1906, the charge for elevating and storage will be as follows: Elevating, including 15 days' storage, 3/4 cent per bushel; storage for each succeeding thirty days or part thereof, 3/4 cent per bushel. No charge for cleaning or blowing. CONSOLIDATED ELEVATOR CO., By M. J. FORBES, President.

CUT OVER LANDS PRODUCTIVE

grains and cereals in Beltrami county is forcibly demonstrating that the cut-over lands of Northern Minnesota are as good as the best for agricultural purposes. A forcible illustration of this fact is the experience of Joe L. Nelson, who resides on section 15, town of Grant Valley, about four miles west of the city of Bemidji. Mr. Nelson has raised a good crop of vegetables and farm products ever since he first cleared his land of the timber, and this season he has done exceptionally well. From a field of ten acres of oats he harvested and thrashed an average of 101 bushels and 15 pounds, actual weight. He put in his granary 43 bushels of barley, the machine measure, taken from less than three acres. Nelson is equally successful in raising potatoes. He planted three pecks of potatoes and dug 4 1/2 bushels from the field. He has a patch of six acres and five rods planted to potatoes which, he asserts, will yield over 300 bushels to the acre. These potatoes are a white variety, similar to the Burbank in quality and reproduction. Mr. Nelson is a steady-going farmer, who tills the soil in the most approved manner, with excellent results. "I suffered habitually from constipation," Don's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since.—A. E. Davis, grocer, Bull Pine Springs, Tex.

Bemidji, Sept. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The nomination of Judge L. G.

How to Exercise the Bowels

YOUR Intestines are lined inside with millions of suckers, that draw the Nutrition from food as it passes them.

It passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, it decays before it gets through.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo.

It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle. It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles, and weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong "Physic" like Sals, Calomel, Jalap, Phos. phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed.

What does the "Physic" do? It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers.

Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as "Physics" do.

They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine.

They simply stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

They are put up in thin, flat, round-cornered Enamel boxes, so they can be carried in a man's vest pocket, or in a woman's purse, all the time, without bulk or trouble.

The time to take a Cascaret is not only when you are Sick, but when you first suspect you need one. Price, 10c a box.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "C.C.C." All druggists.

FUNDS FOR DEFICIENCY

Raising Them is Problem That Confronts French Clergy.

Paris, Sept. 7.—It is understood that the French bishops and archbishops assembled here to devise means for meeting the provisions of the law providing for the separation of church and state, without violating the laws of the church, devoted yesterday to the discussion of the resources of the church in an effort to discover some method of providing funds to supply the deficiency occasioned by the withdrawal of the budget for the department of public worship.

It was stated that the prelates will not make any proposal for maintaining the status quo until December, when the church and state separation law goes into full force. If the government decides to expel the clergy from their churches the episcopate then will consider taking further action to safeguard their interests.

THE BISHOP IS DROPPED

No Longer Member of International Policy-holders' Committee.

His Letter Taken as a Surrender of His Position.

New York, Sept. 7.—At the meeting of the international policyholders' committee, at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday, at which Edward Oney presided, and which almost all the full membership was present, the letter recently written by Bishop McCabe to Oney, which was discussed, and resolutions were adopted relieving the bishop from further service on the committee. The proceedings were held behind closed doors, and after adjournment the following resolutions were given out:

"Resolved, that the committee accepted membership on the committee, but has been unable to attend any of the meetings of its sub-committee, although respectfully urged to do so, and whereas, there was furnished to the press from the offices of the Mutual Life Insurance company, on Aug. 31, a letter bearing the signature of Bishop McCabe, addressed to Alton B. Parker, as chairman of the executive committee, which has been read at this meeting, but had not been received at the time it was given out for publication by the Mutual Life Insurance company on the date of its printing, and

"Whereas, Bishop McCabe has been communicated with by telegram and in person, so as to present his views to his associates, and to be informed of the views of the committee, but has made no reply to such communications, and has failed to attend, and whereas, copies of the proposed address were furnished to Bishop McCabe before the meeting at which the address was adopted, was mailed at least three weeks before the address was distributed, and no objection or criticism was made by him as to the form of the address for four weeks after the distribution thereof, nor until the letter of Aug. 27, and

"Resolved, that this committee regards the attitude assumed in the said letter, as so completely out of sympathy with the announced purpose of the committee as to amount in effect to the surrender by Bishop McCabe of his membership in the committee, he accordingly relieved from further service.

"Resolved, that the chairman of the executive committee is directed to reply to the communication of Bishop McCabe in such form as he deems appropriate.

"Resolved, that in the judgment of the committee, it is not in the interests of the policyholders to accept or continue the administration ticket of either company."

MAY AGAIN BE CHOSEN

Speaker Cannon Makes Significant Remark as to Roosevelt.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 7.—"Stranger things might happen than Roosevelt being president until 1912," said Speaker Joseph G. Cannon here last night, in the course of a speech delivered at the re-election of Representative Littlefield. The statement was made after Mr. Cannon had discussed the recent utterances of W. J. Bryan.

Speaker Cannon had a severe chill while on his way here by train from Lewiston yesterday and kept to his bed at a local hotel after his arrival until the early evening, but he recovered sufficiently to fulfill his engagement at the Republican rally last night and made a vigorous speech in advocacy of Representative Littlefield.

When Mr. Cannon left the hall at the conclusion of his speech he exhibited signs of weakness, but expressed the belief that a night's rest would restore his normal condition.

This is Mr. Littlefield's home city and Mr. Cannon's audience cheered his references to Mr. Littlefield loudly. At the opening of his address, Speaker Cannon took up a question which had been handed to him by a representative of a local newspaper asking why he had "budded in" in the Maine campaign.

GOMPERS CONTRADICTS SPEAKER CANNON.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 7.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, resumed his campaign against Representative Charles A. Littlefield last night. HOPES TO OPEN BANK

Receiver Earle Working on Plans to Bring That About.

President Hipple and Segal Allowed to Withdraw Enormously.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—To determine the responsibility of the directors of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company, State Banking Commissioner Berkeley came here yesterday and appointed as special bank examiners Charles M. Volium and Meyer Goldsmith, expert registered accountants, who with the consent of Receiver Earle will at once begin a thorough examination of the defunct concern.

Receiver Earle last night issued a statement announcing that he hopes soon to reopen the doors of the bank and that all depositors will be protected. Mr. Earle says the directors have resigned to his solicitations to help reorganize the company but did not state what amount of money they have guaranteed. In order to successfully accomplish the rehabilitation of the company the receiver says the creditors must meet his efforts in the same spirit in which they were received by the directors.

Bank Commissioner Berkeley states the examination should occupy more than four or five days. The law gives the examiners the right to interrogate under oath any director, officer or employee of the trust company or of any other company holding assets of the defunct concern. During the past few years, Mr. Berkeley declared, practically every director of the Real Estate company had certified to the correctness of the reports filed by the company with the state banking department. These reports, he said, appear to have been false. If his examination sustains the falsity of the reports, Mr. Berkeley declared, he would proceed against the directors and make an issue of their responsibility, which has never been decided by the courts of this state.

The evidence presented through witnesses by District Attorney Bell, at the hearing of Segal, Noyes and Collingwood, yesterday, disclosed the methods by which Segal and Hipple wrecked the trust company. The most damaging testimony was that of the effect that both Hipple and Segal had repeatedly overdrawn their accounts, with the knowledge of the treasurer and assistant treasurer. On the day Hipple died, there was an overdraft of $64,000 against the president, which was converted by Collingwood into a loan, showing Hipple's account to be apparently straight. These overdrafts at times amounted to more than $300,000. There was on deposit in the bank approximately $7,000,000, and the loans made to Segal amounted to $3,300,000. Although Receiver Earle appears hopeful of opening the bank at an early date, many of the creditors express some doubts as to his ability to do so, because of the uncertainty of the Segal sugar refinery here as an asset, which Mr. Earle regards as valuable. It has developed that Segal's equity in the plant is represented by 40 per cent of the stock. This has been handed to Mr. Earle, who is desirous of securing control of the remaining 60 per cent. Just how he will proceed to attain this object is not known, but there are rumors that he intends to bring suit under the Sherman act against the American Sugar Refining company, which holds the controlling interest in the Segal refinery. In a court of equity, Mr. Earle declined to be quoted on this matter.

Many depositors who placed money in the bank on Monday and Tuesday, after the directors knew that it was insolvent, were allowed to withdraw their deposits yesterday. There were 414 deposits, and of these 138 were returned.

LAST DAY OF RETIREMENT FOR JESUIT DELEGATES.

KING RECEIVES STRIKERS.

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 6.—King Alfonso in compliance with the request of the strike committee, yesterday received a delegation of workmen, shook hands with each of them and listened to a lengthy statement of their grievances, promising to hand over to the proper minister the memorial which was presented to him. The king expressed regret that his position as a constitutional monarch would not permit him to do more. The strikers were charmed with their reception.

THEY ASK TOO MUCH

Insurgents' Price of Peace Regarded as Too Radical.

Strong Talk of Favoring Capote's Succession to President Palma.

Havana, Sept. 7.—While the peace projects have caused a general suspension of revolutionary operations, no appreciable progress towards anything like a satisfactory understanding has been made. The Liberal leaders insist it is unjust to regard them as insurgents and assert they are merely seeking for peace, at the same time declaring that not only must the terms of peace be better than heretofore talked of, but there must be some unquestionable guaranty that the conditions will be carried out to the letter. The Moderates meanwhile continue in a waiting attitude.

Gen. Menocal was busy throughout the day receiving callers, mostly Moderates and veterans, and holding conferences. He said last night he had no reason to be disappointed with the progress the negotiations are making and that the semi-official suspension of hostilities which began yesterday in Santa Clara and Havana provinces would be extended today to Pinar del Rio, giving the veterans a chance to get among their comrades and others in the field and push negotiations for peace. Gen. Menocal appears not to be discouraged by the attitude of the Liberals.

The demands which come from the insurgents themselves as the price of a cessation of rebellion are regarded in the capitol as 'or the most part not to be considered. These demands include the withdrawal of deserters from the rural guards to their former positions, the reinstatement of Liberal officials who were deposed from municipal offices, the retention of their arms by the insurgents and other equally radical propositions.

The Liberals have not yet relinquished the hope that they may be able to force the resignation of President Palma and all the high government officials. The success of Vice President Mendez Capote to the presidency is also discussed. Liberals seem to think they could reach an understanding with him that would be satisfactory to all. There is no indication in any of the recent developments that Capote is a party to this project, and the reintroduction of his name in this connection only to complicate the discussions.

The talk concerning Vice President Mendez Capote's succession to the presidency as one of the ways of settling the trouble was persistent last night. Asked by the Associated Press about these and other points of the negotiations, Gen. Menocal said: "We have not got that far, but I can positively assure you that thus far things are going satisfactorily. The Liberal cause is the same as ours so we are all hopeful of accomplishing it, but we have not yet taken up the details."

Gen. Menocal said that commissioners had returned last night from a visit to Pinar del Rio and reported that they were favorable to a cessation of all hostilities pending the negotiations. The general said he hoped to meet all elements and begin more definite negotiations looking to peace.

After the conference, Gen. Menocal and intimate friends of Mendez Capote visited the vice president. The proposition with regard to Vice President Capote assuming the presidency came from the Liberals and insurgents with such unanimity that the committee decided to consider the matter. If President Palma signifies his willingness to resign in the interest of peace, this may be the outcome. However, all this is tentative as yet, and has only been discussed in secret.

Many business men of Havana ridicule the whole effort for what they call a patched up peace, which they believe can be no more than temporary and some go so far as to assert that the country never can be governed rightly or invested in by absolutely safeguarded unless the United States intervene. This is frankly stated in some cases, also by high government officials and brings the retort that those who make such statements are not good Cubans.

Despite all drawbacks, however, the fact that peace proposals are pending and that hostilities have been suspended has brought more or less hopefulness to the people of Havana.

The government forces of yesterday's fight in Santa Clara province says that Col. Valdes' troops pursued thirty men who had fled from the scene. After the insurgents had been reinforced by others, a fight ensued in which the insurgents were reported to retreat to Tartabul, where they camped. There they were attacked by Capt. Mayato and several of the insurgents were killed or wounded. The insurgents left several of their dead on the field. Of the rural guards, two were wounded. Captains Figueroa and Delgado report a fight in the hills south of Santiago de las Vegas, in which four of the rural guards were killed. Pools of blood all over the battleground indicate that many of the insurgents were wounded, but no bodies were found.

LATE DOINGS IN UPPER MICHIGAN. Whitdale Man Accused of Setting Fire to a House. Whitdale—S. Russell of Whitdale has been arrested on the charge of setting fire to a house occupied by William Holson. The fire occurred at about 7:30 o'clock in the morning and a liberal quantity of horse manure had been thrown against the residence the remainder of the night being extinguished before much damage was done. William Rogers, who watched the residence the remainder of the night, strongly incriminated Russell in his testimony before Justice Knox. According to the witness, Russell admitted to him later in the morning that he had set fire to the house and that he would repeat the job the following night and hoped to do more successful.

MAY GET SIX MORE CARRIERS

Postoffice Inspector Arrives to Investigate Needs of City. In response to Postmaster Eaton's demands for an increase in the number of letter carriers allotted to Duluth, Postoffice Inspector Nathan Nolle arrived in the city yesterday and spent the day looking up the matter. Mr. Eaton is confident that Inspector Nolle's findings will result in the proposed increase of six carriers, which he thinks are needed. Duluth is an unusually difficult city to cover by means of mail routes, stretching twenty-three miles in length, not to mention the mile in width and the other of height. It is necessary for the postman to cover a great deal more ground and climb a great many more hills in order to serve an equal number of people, than in any other city of equal size. Nevertheless, Duluth has a smaller allotment of carriers in proportion to its size than has Minneapolis, which is in every way almost ideally laid out for this work. In the Flour City a carrier has to serve about 100 people per day, while in Minneapolis the number is so small that notwithstanding the difficulties on every route in the service, each postman serves 150 people per day.

great improvement to the water system in Laurium. The work was ordered done by the council some time ago, and will quite likely cost around $5,000 when completed. It will give a greater number of people the privilege of using pond water than heretofore, and at the same time will make the pressure greater. It is primarily for the latter purpose that the improvement was ordered, for it was feared that during a big fire there might be trouble experienced in getting sufficient pressure to make fire fighting possible.

THIRSTY WORKMAN. Boston Herald: The late Charles S. Crouch of Northampton, a prominent contractor and builder, and at one time a member of the legislature, told the following story about one of his workmen, whose fondness for taking a drink was well known.

Salto—Repairs are being made to the dam near the Finnish Milling company's grist mill at Salto and as soon as there have been completed the plant will be ready to go into operation. It is expected that the plant will be started the early part of the season as the soon as a start is made the mill will be kept in operation for several months. The farmers in the vicinity of the mill as well as many in other parts of Houghton county, have a great number of barrels of grain. Some wheat will also be sent here from Ontonagon and Baraga counties.

Laurium—The water pipe which was ordered some time ago for Laurium and which was to have been used in extending the pond water system has not yet arrived consequently the work has been delayed. It is expected that these mains will arrive here within the next week or ten days, and the work of laying them will be immediately started. The extension of the pond water mains will be a

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

With the renomination of Governor John A. Johnson in the Democratic convention this week the issues were joined for the state campaign of 1906, and while the primary election campaign is likely to hold it back for a couple of weeks yet, after that struggle is over the contest for the chief honor of the state have to bestow will be in full blast.

From present indications, the blast will not be a very fierce one. The voters have so far shown only languid interest in the state election. They are busy, one thing, they are contented with present conditions, for another. There is really nothing to get excited over, since no momentous issues hinge upon the outcome of the campaign.

This apathy, which Candidate Cole and his friends are finding so baffling and so annoying, can mean but one thing, Governor Johnson is just bringing to a close an administration that has not been excelled by any in the history of the state, and that has produced more tangible results for the benefit of the people than any half-dozen administrations in recent years. His regime has been characterized by an honest, earnest and vigorous attention to the duties of his office, a spirit that prevailed not only in the executive offices themselves, but throughout the list of state officers appointed by the governor.

Life insurance has been a live topic during Governor Johnson's administration, and the governor and his insurance commissioner, T. D. O'Brien, have become national figures in connection with the fight for better methods, both having been accorded the unprecedented honor of commendation in a president's message to congress.

In the matter of regulating railroads and their rates, Governor Johnson awoke the state legislature to the need of action in his first message, and followed it up by stirring the railroad and warehouse commission into action that has resulted in a large saving in grain-carrying rates, and this will result in a saving in all classes of merchandise rates.

Pure food is another vital question in which the public is deeply concerned, and the state dairy and food department, under Governor Johnson's administration, has made the state known the country over as one with a good pure food law, aggressively and carefully administered.

These are merely characteristic instances of the administration of a governor who has remembered his oath of office, and has kept up a consistently vigorous prosecution of his duties without fear or favor.

And now come the Republican partisans of the state, asking the voters to change this administration by substituting a man about whom they know little or nothing for one about whom they know nothing but good, either as an officer or as a man.

It's small wonder that the people are not getting excited over the campaign. No reason is offered by the change except that the proposed new man will try to do what Governor Johnson has shown himself exceptionally well qualified to do and has done well, unless the fact that certain partisans thirst for public office can be construed to be a reason.

UPON WHAT MEAT?

Reports from Washington indicate that the postal employees are up in arms against Postmaster General Cortelyou.

And no wonder. It is stated that he has issued orders that the post-office employees of the country may not band together for their common good, may not appeal to their congressmen for improvement of salary or position, may not do anything but buckle down to work and await with what grace they may whatever fortune sends them.

In the past nobody has questioned the right of these employes to better themselves if they could do it. They were allowed to petition congress for more pay or lesser hours of work. They were allowed to have their associations for organized efforts toward improvement in their working conditions. Postmaster General Cortelyou says that they have got to stop it.

This does not sound well. "Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed, that he is grown so great?"

TAKING IT SERIOUSLY.

The newspapers and the people have had a lot of fun over the president's order directing the government printing office to follow the simplified spelling in printing executive documents, and providing that state papers shall be written according to that dictum. So much fun has been made of the order that it now appears that many people have taken the chaffing in all seriousness, and have exaggerated ideas of the philological revolution contemplated by the president.

In view of this, it may be in order to explain that it is not such a terrible convulsion of language as many imagine that is created by the president's order. Those who are campaigning for simplified spelling, while the rest of the reformers are after the trusts and their associate evils, food adulterators and their products, and the party boss and his corruptive machinery, have made up a list of 300 words that are now spelled by good authority in two different ways, and have asked the people to try to accustom themselves to using the simpler form in each case. Out of the 300 a considerable proportion are commonly spelled already as the reformers want them spelled. The substitution of simple vowels for diphthongs, the dropping of unsounded and unnecessary letters like the final "le" in cigarette and the final "me" in programme, and the substitution of "f" for "ph" in words like phantasy and phantom, are already recognized by good authority, and have been more or less generally adopted.

The only radical change is in the spelling of past participles, in which a curt "e" is substituted for the old-fashioned "ed," as in dropt for dropped, dript for dripped, etc. Eliminating the words under this head, there remains nothing that anybody need balk at. The substitution of favor for favour, honor for honour, etc., was done long ago, and nobody uses the old forms in this country any longer, any more than they use aera for era or haematite for hematite.

So nobody need feel alarmed at the spelling reform campaign as far as it has gone. Of course this is intended only as a beginning, and when we have become used to the 300 words doubtless the reformers will propose other changes more radical still. But at present nothing radical is proposed, and anyway this is still a free country, and all men may spell as they please, old-fashioned or new-fashioned, correctly or incorrectly, without going to jail for it.

PORTO RICO'S TRADE.

The acquisition of Porto Rico by the United States, together with the extension of free trade by this country to the island, seems to have been profitable commercially to both countries, according to figures on the island's commerce reported by the state department.

The imports in 1904 amounted to $13,197,000, and in 1905 they were $18,750,000. Those from the United States increased from $11,154,000 to $16,410,000, and their proportion of the total imports increased from 84.3 per cent to 87.5 per cent. Porto Rico, therefore, is faithfully taking advantage of the opportunity offered by this country to increase its trade.

The exports from Porto Rico increased from $16,663,000 in 1904 to $20,887,000 in 1905, and those that came to the United States from $12,828,000 to $17,461,000. In 1904 Porto Rico sent 77 per cent of its exports to this country, and in 1905 it sent 83.6 per cent. So the United States is responding to the chance afforded by taking down the tariff wall, and is buying freely from its island possession, taking mostly sugar, tobacco and coffee, and selling mostly iron and steel, machinery, rice, cotton and provisions, dairy products and breadstuffs.

UNDERGROUND WIRES.

Consul General Skinner, who is located at Paris, writes to the state department telling the attitude of the French people toward unsightly poles and wires.

"Americans will be struck," he says, "by the refusal of the large French cities to permit the erection of unsightly poles and overhead wires. Two companies are preparing to deliver electricity throughout the city of Marseilles at this moment, and neither has been permitted to raise a single pole. On the other hand, great progress has been made in the manufacture of underground cables, which are carefully insulated and rendered impervious, so that they may be laid in ordinary trenches exactly like gas pipes."

That is one way, anyway, in which French cities are far ahead of most American cities. There are very few cities in this country that have not permitted themselves to be made unsightly networks of wires of all sorts. They are not only far from pleasant to look upon, but they interfere with fire-fighting, they get out of order every time there is a fire or a storm, and they very often become "crossed" and create a tragedy or two.

Ultimately all cities in this country will drive their wires underground. Duluth has taken a step in that direction, but she has not gone nearly so far as she will one day. Other cities are agitating underground wires in one way or another, and as the movement toward underground wires in this country has come to a halt, the time will come shortly when in no American city will there appear a single wire above ground.

There are a few American cities that have progressed much in this respect. Washington is a conspicuous example. In all the city of Washington there is not a visible wire. The electric light wires are underground, the trolley wires are underground, and the telegraph and telephone wires are all out of sight. The result is that there is much less wire trouble, and the city is infinitely more beautiful than any city can be that is disfigured with uselessly forests of poles and tangles of wire.

However, underground wires come but slowly, and the reform is not one that can be accomplished at once. Even if existing wires are allowed to remain in sight, certainly every municipality can compel the companies operating them to put all new wires underground. It is a subject that requires some public interest, and a certain amount of agitation is necessary to create that interest.

TOO MUCH PROFIT.

An industry that has been too long neglected by the public is the express business.

The express companies have been permitted, without let or hindrance, to charge what they pleased. They have pleased, apparently, to charge "what the traffic would bear" in all cases.

Besides, they have, through their agents in congress, prevented postal reforms by heading off the parcels post, and through their financial relatives, the railroads, they have prevented an investigation into the rates paid for carrying the mails, which could be reduced to a fraction of what they now are without robbing the railroads of a fair profit.

Just to show what the express companies have done, take the balance sheet of the Wells-Fargo company, which showed on July 31 assets of $21,155,246, of which $5,375,709 consisted of bonds, stocks and warrants, and $12,874,005 of loans. Besides paying large dividends to stockholders from its carrying business, this company has been able to build up an enormous surplus with which it has been doing a banking and investment business.

This showing is sufficient proof that the express companies are charging more than they should. Their rates should be investigated and cut to a point where they will afford a decent return on their capital stock at most, and the public which patronizes them should get the benefit of the enormous surplus that the express companies have been piling up.

THE PASSING SHOW.

If you think it's a typographical error, probably it's only spelling reform.

Just bought a new dictionary? Throw it away. Its spelling is out of date.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

"I am of the opinion that the telephone is working a remarkable change in the character of the American side," said A. Schwaiger of Cleveland, O., at the Lenox. Mr. Schwaiger has for many years been connected with the telephone office in Cleveland. "The difficulty about a voice through a telephone is to gauge the voice so that the words shall carry distinctly to the other end of the line, and usually which is peculiarly a Yankee characteristic."

"Most people speak too loud when talking through a telephone. Watch any of the most skillful operators in exchanges. Standing a few feet away you can distinguish the word of feeble-toned conversation. She speaks directly into the mouthpiece with a tone scarcely above a whisper, and her conversation is carried on without any effort on her part. The operator knows her business."

"In a little while Cleveland one would be surprised to know of the careless manner in which people use the telephone. It is now becoming a practice with telephone companies to train their operators in the correct habit of speaking. In any exchange where you are talking at once, but you will scarcely hear more than a mere hum in the background."

"They have been taught to throw away the most essential operators in exchanges. Instead of scattering the sound, it is one of the essential parts of the telephone office. A properly-trained operator will speak directly into the mouthpiece to the other end of the wire, and as every one uses an instrument more or less he should learn how to use it. The telephone is now becoming a practice with telephone companies to train their operators in the correct habit of speaking. In any exchange where you are talking at once, but you will scarcely hear more than a mere hum in the background."

ODD WAYS TO GET HURT

Oklahoma Has Bunch of Accidents From Queer Causes.

Cows, Baby Buggies and Pop Bottles Are All Unsafe.

Outhrie, O. T., Sept. 7.—That danger lurks in every walk of life and especially that of the farmer, is illustrated by the many peculiar accidents that have happened in Oklahoma recently. There seems to be a thousand and one ways in which a person may be injured if he is not continually on guard. Eternal vigilance seems to be the price of whole bones as well as liberty and the following are some of the many that have occurred in that state recently.

The most droll of farm accidents, the cow and calf, often are to be blamed for fatal accidents. Everett Evers, son of W. A. Sayre of Pawnee, was cutting a rope of a calf's neck. He let the knife slip, which hit him in the eye putting it out. He was taken to the hospital at Guthrie for treatment.

While loosening a pin with which he had a cow poked, C. F. Bunyon of Ford took a blow on the forehead, which was so painful that he was severely injured. When he picked up the cow started to run, jerking the rope in such a way that the stake struck Bunyon in the forehead, rendering him unconscious.

The habit of riding a cow is usually not considered dangerous, but the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pugh of LeFlore had his left arm broken above the wrist by being thrown from one of those animals while trying to ride her to the pasture.

Falls from trees are common, but such mishaps are usually confined to juvenile humanity. Not so, however, in the case of E. O. Gardner, a prominent farmer in the vicinity of Guthrie. He was fixing a telephone wire in a tree when his foot slipped and he fell thirty feet to the ground, rendering him unconscious and requiring two days to get up.

Henry Larson, Jr., of El Reno, by way of celebrating his sixth birthday, made a high dive from a tree in the yard at his home, busting his left arm.

A fatal accident was a result of a fall from a tree happened at Norman. Clarence Muller, son of Robert M. Muller, a shoemaker, was fixing some sort of a trolley in a tree, and in the process he fell twenty feet, receiving fatal injuries to his fingers.

Carl Falkner of Billings was the victim of a peculiar accident. While at his home, busting his left arm, he was holding an open knife in his hand, the blade of which was about an inch and a half long, pointing toward his body. In falling he forced the blade into his left wrist, full length, just below the heart. Had the blade penetrated a little deeper Falkner's wrist would have proved fatal.

Miss Frances Swinzie, also of Billings, recently received a painful injury while putting a bottle of soda pop in the refrigerator. Through some misadventure the bottle burst in her hand, cutting that member badly and breaking one of her fingers.

The baby buggy is not always as docile as some men would suppose. Mr. J. S. Shawnee was trying to take one of them down a hill, and in the process he lost control of the machine, and the bottom of the stately and rocking machine flew in the air.

A man living at Sparks who failed to observe the road sign at the corner of a main highway, was nursing a broken arm and a lacerated forehead. The husband was in a saloon drinking, when his wife appeared in a doorway and dealt him a severe blow on the forehead, which hit him on the shoulder. He turned to see who hit him just in time to find the blow from another blow from the left, the full force of the blow fell upon his arm, breaking it like a green stick.

The most serious case of the year, farm machinery is the cause of many serious accidents. While threshing near Snyder, a team ran away and a corner of the wagon fell into the machinery, catching the arm of the operator, and he was severely injured.

WILES OF A COUNTESS

Result in Undoing of Gallant Young Naval Officer.

Broke Pledge to Admiral Evans—Fought Another Officer.

New York, Sept. 7.—A second naval officer has been forced out of the United States navy through the wiles of the same woman.

Ensign Charles Lawrence Bruff of the battleship Missouri, disappeared from his ship while it was at anchor in the North river, broke a pledge he had given to Rear Admiral Evans, and sent in his resignation rather than face the admiral in a court-martial.

Olga Maxwell, a handsome young woman, known among her associates as the "Russian Countess," was the cause of Bruff's absence from his ship and his resignation.

Miss Maxwell was the cause also of the disappearance of Midshipman Robert A. Jackson from the Missouri, a little more than a year ago, when the vessel was in New York waters.

Since the dismissal of Jackson, Ensign Bruff, it is said, was constantly with Miss Maxwell, whenever he could get shore leave. Three times he disappeared from the ship, returning each time in a disordered condition. Three times he was forgiven by Admiral Evans, who tried to do all he could to bring about a change in the young officer's conduct.

The third time Bruff returned to the ship he was almost in a condition of collapse. When he recovered he was notified by Admiral Evans that he would be court-martialed.

Bruff's father and mother called on the admiral, and their tears finally softened him. He sent for Bruff and gave him his choice between court-martial and taking the pledge. He chose the latter.

On Aug. 29 Bruff again disappeared. He was suspended, and then resigned. The resignation brought out the fact that Bruff and Jackson fought a battle over Miss Maxwell. Bruff was victorious, and invited Jackson to take a drink. They renewed their friendship at the bar. Bruff is from New York city.

WE'LL MAKE THEM OBEY

Comptroller Will be Rigid in Holding Banks to Law.

First One Offending Will Find Its Charter Forfeited.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The treasury department proposes to make an example of national bank directors who, by constantly ignoring the law, threaten the solvency of the banks with which they are connected. Hereafter the law regarding the making of loans by national banks is to be rigidly enforced, and the first bank that willfully and flagrantly violates the law, in the opinion of the comptroller, will have its charter forfeited.

This statement was made by an official of the treasury while discussing the failure of the First National bank of Chelsea, Mass. The downfall of this bank was due to an excessive loan of $500,000, which a number of other banks are alleged to be guilty of excessive loans to directors and officers. The statement was made at the treasury department that although two-thirds of the banks are within the limitations of the law in regard to the amounts of loans that may be made, the department is rigidly enforcing the provisions of law, which are duly reported to the comptroller by bank examiners. It has long been the custom of the comptroller's office to condone these acts, and beyond calling the offending banks' attention to the excessive loans, and perhaps an admonition to avoid a repetition of the offense, nothing is done.

The only punishment that can be meted out to directors who incur excessive loans by lending amounts of money in excess of the limits of the law, is to secure the forfeiture of their charters. This is a step which comptrollers of recent years have considered too drastic, with the result that not a single bank has had its charter forfeited for exceeding the limits of the law.

A new policy has been decided upon by the comptroller. He will require banks to live strictly up to the letter of the law in regard to the amount of loans that they are permitted to make. If a bank is found to have exceeded these restrictions, there will be no more leniency shown. In such cases, the new order of things will be enforced against the excessive loaning of money, and the comptroller will be rigidly enforcing the provisions of the law against the excessive loaning of money by national banks.

In order to retain the business of large national banks, the comptroller has decided to lend money in excess of the legal limit. The result of this is the large number of excessive loans that are reported. When such loans are discovered, the comptroller will immediately advise the directors that they must be repaid. In most instances they are even though they may soon recover. In such cases, the chief difficulty with the enforcement of the law is that the directors are not responsible for anything which can be imposed.

There is no way to discipline an officer but the general clause authorizing the comptroller to begin suit for the violation of the law, which is contained in the provisions of the act. In other words, there is no penalty but to flow along the natural channels of the law, which is a serious misdemeanor. The comptroller has more than forty years' experience in the enforcement of the law, and has never known a case in which a severe penalty was imposed, where the violation of the law has been so excessive and flagrant as to justify the imposition of a severe penalty. In many cases, where it has been proved that the directors have been grossly negligent, and where the more than a million of a suit has led to their removal, or at least taken out of the bank.

The comptroller has decided upon a new policy. He will require banks to live strictly up to the letter of the law in regard to the amount of loans that they are permitted to make. If a bank is found to have exceeded these restrictions, there will be no more leniency shown. In such cases, the new order of things will be enforced against the excessive loaning of money, and the comptroller will be rigidly enforcing the provisions of the law against the excessive loaning of money by national banks.

REBATES ARE TO GO

That is Interpretation of Pennsylvania Road's Recent Sale.

Some See in It Scheme to Get Best of Stockholders.

GIVES HANDSOME CUP FOR CABIN LAUNCH RACES

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 7.—E. H. Farney, a Chicago millionaire who has a substantial home near Oshkosh, on Lake Winnebago has offered a $500 cup to be raced for by cabin launches over a course of 100 miles long. The first forty-five miles of the race will be given to the various boats. The first race in this series will be on Sept. 22, on Lake Winnebago and tributary waters and will be open to all cabin launches in the United States. A large number of entries will be made from Oshkosh and vicinity. The cup will be purchased in Chicago this week.

The stocks sold to the purchaser of the stock sold by the Pennsylvania, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. were named as purchasers in the official statement, but one brokerage firm which is very close to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. informed its clients that it believed the Union Pacific had bought the stock. The syndicate of which they themselves are members at a price 20 per cent less than the real value of the securities. It is the belief of those persons that the syndicate will then dispose of the stock, realizing a profit of about 100 per cent.

At the office of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. it was said that the firm's purchase of part of the Pennsylvania railroad company's holdings of Baltimore and Ohio and of the Pennsylvania stock was absolute, and followed an offer made by the railroad company. The bank's decision to buy how their securities

SOUTHERN GIRL HAS AWFUL SHOCK RETURNS AFTER HALF CENTURY

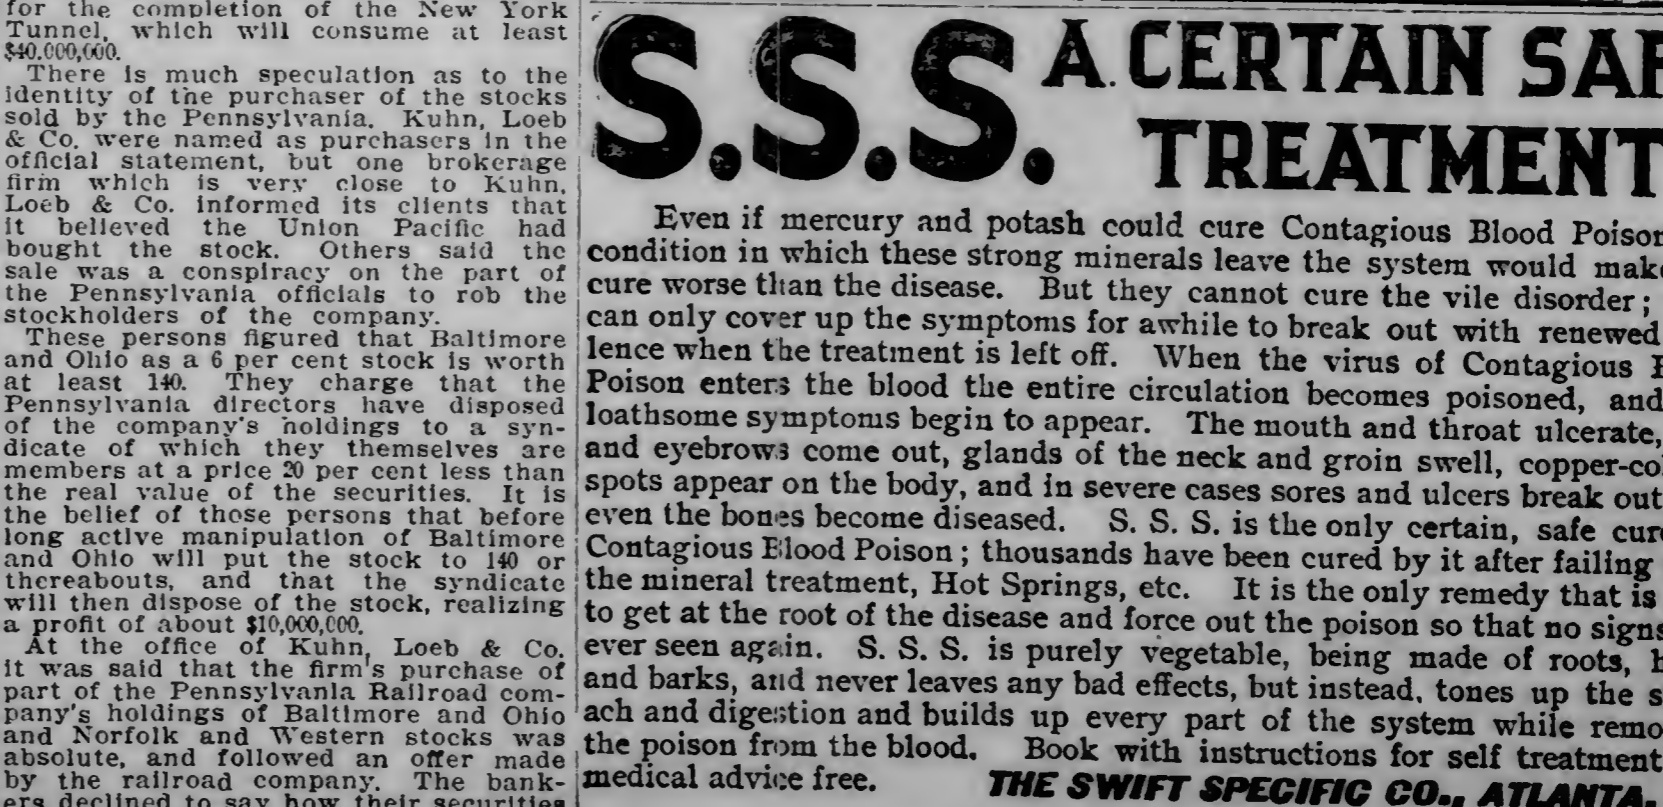

Indiana Town Gets Startling Surprise From Former Resident.

Leesburg, Ga., Sept. 7.—Six months ago, Miss Eva Green, one of the prettiest girls of this place and daughter of a prominent family, was wedded to A. T. Wilson, after a brief courtship. One week ago she learned that the husband of whom she was so fond was a negro. The girl informed her parents of the discovery, and the husband, fearing that his wife's proud relatives would kill him, fled.

Today, on petition of the girl's relatives, Governor Terrell offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of Wilson. The girl's relatives made no secret of their purpose to lynch Wilson if they can find him. The girl is protected and is being watched so that she may not commit suicide. Wilson had been here only a few months when he married Miss Green. He had plenty of money, dressed well and announced that he intended to make investments here.

It is said that Wilson himself told his wife that he had negro blood in his veins, believing that her love for him was so great that she would not care. The girl's relatives, in tracing his father was killed by a falling tree. The boy was adopted by a family living near Wheeling, Ind. but later he came here. When 18 years of age he ran away, leaving his parents with only thirty cents in his pocket. He walked nearly all the way to Council Bluffs, Iowa, a few days later he was taken to a home for the blind in Indianapolis. He is married and has four sons.

Anderson determined recently to learn something of his brothers and sisters. He left in Indiana over half a century before. Accompanied by his son Harry he reached Marion, Ind., without the slightest trace of any of his relatives. He sought the name of Anderson. While thus engaged he met Attorney Enos Baldwin, a distant relative by marriage. He learned from Baldwin that two of his nieces, Mrs. John Frame and Mrs. John Barnett were at Jonesboro, by them he was told that Mrs. John Blake, another niece, resided at Hartford City.

S. S. S. A CERTAIN SAFE TREATMENT

Even if mercury and potash could cure Contagious Blood Poison the condition in which these strong minerals leave the system would make the cure worse than the disease. But they cannot cure the vile disorder; they can only cover up the symptoms for awhile to break out with renewed violence when the treatment is left off. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood the entire circulation becomes poisoned, and the loathsome symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, hair and eyebrows come out, glands of the neck and groin swell, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in severe cases sores and ulcers break out, even the bones become diseased. S. S. S. is the only certain, safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison; thousands have been cured by it after failing with the mineral treatment, Hot Springs, etc. It is the only remedy that is able to get at the root of the disease and force out the poison so that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made of roots, herbs and barks, and never leaves any bad effects, but instead, tones up the stomach and digestion and builds up every part of the system while removing the poison from the blood. Book with instructions for self treatment and medical advice free.

HARVARD IN FINE TRIM

Maintain Their Weight and Show Up Well in Practice.

Nickalls, Well Known Oarsman, Picks Harvard to Win.

Punnet, Eng., Sept. 7.—It was in every way a record crowd, especially in the matter of the number of American visitors that was seen on the river yesterday, testifying to the increasing interest in Saturday's contest between the Cambridge and Harvard university crews.

Cambridge today showed the finest style of rowing in the history of the sport. The crews showed unshaken confidence, which, judging from their practice displays, is well founded. There is no little to choose that betting has again become even.

The Harvard men have improved considerably in the matter of starting but in the matter of the oars they are still a little in need of improvement. The Harvard men have maintained their weight during the last few days of training, but some of the crews of Cambridge are anxious, fearing that the latter are becoming a little "fitter".

During yesterday's practice of starting, Coach Wray was heard to remark to the Harvard crew that they were missing the beginning of the stroke but the fault was remedied in subsequent attempts.

Both crews were out this afternoon practicing starts and sprints. Harvard was paced part of the time by a scratch eight of the London Rowing club. Though no serious time tests were attempted the crews accomplished a good afternoon's work. Harvard will go out again in the morning and will be out again in the afternoon. The Cambridge men will only go out in the afternoon today.

London, Sept. 7.—I plump whole heartedly for Harvard, writes Myron Nickalls, the well known oarsman, to the Daily Mail this morning. "My reason for so doing is because I consider that in nearly all their trials the Americans have shown more speed and staying power than their rivals."

Mr. Nickalls expresses the opinion that the lag work of Harvard will bring victory. "There is likely to be rough water," Mr. Nickalls says, "and he prides the Americans to the Englishmen on a disturbed surface."

LAST REGATTA AT BOAT CLUB

Postponed Races for the Club Medals Will be Rowed.

Tomorrow the Duluth Boat club will pull off the program of races postponed from last Saturday.

Owing to the rough water last Saturday it was impossible to row the final series of races for the club medals, and they had to be postponed for a week. The eight-oared race was rowed, with each crew a man short, and a challenge race between the two crews will be pulled off tomorrow, together with the final junior four-oared race.

An eight was out last evening on the bay, and the interest in rowing is likely to keep up until quite late in the fall, whereas last year it died out after the big regatta in July.

MAY BE WEST CHAMPION.

Nineteen-Year-Old Bostonian Astonishes St. Louis Golfers.

St. Louis, Sept. 7.—By his defeat of Ralph McKittick of the St. Louis Country club in yesterday's round of match play, Richard Kimball of Glen Echo, St. Louis, looks up on the golfing horizon as a possible contender in the finals of the amateur championship tournament of the Western Golf association, which is in progress on the links of the Glen Echo Country club.

Kimball is but 19 years old. He is a Bostonian, having learned the game at the Western Golf club, but he has won several smaller country clubs near Brookline, Mass.

RACES AT STATE FAIR.

Absence of a Favorite, Mars Best Race of Day.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—Interest in the 2:30 class pacing, which was the feature of the card at the races at Hamline yesterday, was weakened by the absence of Eastern, which had been one of the early favorites, but did not arrive. The Broncho was the only horse that had a fair chance of winning, but he was out of the race when he failed to push the Little Mare. Both the other races were taken in straight heats. Trick fast, weather fine, attendance 49,000. Results: 2:15 class pacing, heat 1, 2:15 1/2, 2:16, 2:17, 2:17 1/2. Fourth of July, Dan Spoor, Leo W., Fred L., Harry D., A. B., Jr., Dan L. also started.

2:30 class trotting, purse $1,000. B. Flora won in straight heats. Time, 2:14 1/2, 2:17, 2:17 1/2. Governer Francis, F. C. B., Grico also started.

SEVENTY AUTOS WILL BE IN LINE

Big Preparations Are Being Made to Celebrate Auto Day.

If the weather permits, auto day will be celebrated in Duluth on Sept. 14, while in the case of inclemency on that date, the next favorable day will be chosen. The course is originally planned to be used, and the autos will leave the corner of First avenue west and Superior street at 10 o'clock after traveling to Lakeside. The return will be made over the same route, and then the parade will go to West Duluth and back to the starting point.

At least seventy machines will be in the parade, and of these the majority will be of the latest make, in honor of the occasion. Every owner of a machine is being urged by the Automobile club to bring out his auto and assist in making the parade a success. This is the first celebration of the kind by the Duluth Automobile club, and the members hope to make a grand showing.

When the autos have completed the course of the parade, they will partake of a banquet, either at the Commercial club or at the Spaulding cafe. After the evening there will be a program of speeches and instrumental music. A paper, prepared by Secretary J. J. Filander, will be read by President A. E. McManus, and will outline the road improvements that have been made by the club, and the plans for the work to be taken up by the club next year.

The Tri-City highway project will be discussed at the meeting, and plans for completing this new route to the Twin Cities will be recommended. Since the new route was first suggested, Washington and Chicago counties have completed a first class highway, and other counties are making improvements, so that it is now possible to run autos over the entire course.

Many improvements have been made by the Duluth Automobile club on local roads, and surrounding highways, the stretch of road between West Duluth and Spirit Lake having been good enough so that it is possible for drivers to take this route without injury to their machines. Grand avenue, in West Duluth, has also been improved, and other work near the Mesaba ore docks has been paid for out of the club treasury. When the improvements planned on the Snively road are completed, it will be possible to make a complete circuit on London road to Lester Park, north to the Snively farm and back by way of the Mesaba ore docks.

A book of road maps, showing all the highways that lead from Duluth to the range towns, Cloquet, Pike Lake, Fond du Lac and other points, is being prepared by Secretary Filander and F. A. Brewer. The road rates adopted by the club will also be contained in this book.

TOURNAMENT IS COMPLETED

Kiichli and Palmer Will Challenge Finch and Kennedy.

It is now up to Kiichli and Palmer to represent the Endion Tennis club in its endeavor to win back the doubles championship cup which has been held by Kennedy and Finch of Superior for two years.

By defeating Paine and Knapp 6-0, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, last evening they won the club tournament, and the right to challenge the present holders for the trophy.

If no changes are made in the present program the championship match will be played on the Endion courts tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Paine and Knapp put up a surprisingly strong contest against the more experienced players and the score of 6-0 in the first set does not begin to express the conditions of play for all the games were hotly contested and a number were called due several times. Paine and Knapp are both younger men with far less experience than Kiichli and Palmer, and they have played together very little this season, so they worked under a decided handicap and the fight they put up for the match was surprisingly fast. One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected on the courts tomorrow afternoon to witness the big match.

GANS WILL TAKE REST.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—Joe Gans, his wife and brother-in-law, Bob Turner, arrived here yesterday afternoon. It is the present intention of Gans to rest a week before leaving for the East, where he will play ten weeks at $1,000 a week. Gans says he will give Britt the next chance, but will arrange terms later.

WILL MEET IN FINAL ROUND

Towne and McLennan Are Left in Golf Championship Contest.

Yesterday afternoon in the semi-finals of the Northland Golf club which has been in progress for nearly a month and is just drawing to a close, McLennan defeated J. Q. A. Crosby and Towne won from H. K. Quinn, the winner of the summer championship, in a close and well played match. Towne pulling out a victory only when an extra hole was played to decide the tie which existed after the eighteenth hole had been played.

Though the players have another week in which to conclude the match, it is likely that Towne and McLennan will play off the final round Saturday and be ready to play Hopkins for the club championship early next week. Had Hopkins stayed in the race until the final round this extra match would have been necessary.

After the close of the women's championship contest, which will be finished by the end of next week, the president and vice president of the club will select teams and will play for a dinner. The club member of the club will enter in this match and it will be one of the most exciting of the year.

FOUR MORE DIVORCES

Della Wendt Says Husband Slapped Her at Public Dance.

Edla Willberg Claims Husband Drove Her Out at Night.

The trial of divorce cases was continued at the afternoon session of the district court yesterday and several decrees were granted.

In the case of Della Wendt against her husband, R. G. Wendt, before Judge Engstrom, it was the old story of inhuman treatment on the part of the husband. Mrs. Wendt stated that they were married at Ashland in 1894 and have three children, all being minors. She claims that after the marriage her husband was very cruel in his actions toward her, but that the climax was reached during March, 1904, when he slapped her in a public ballroom. Her face was badly injured at this time and after that she left him. She asked for the custody of the three children.

Mrs. Lizzie Fredrickson complained, before Judge Dibel, that her husband was a drunkard, and when intoxicated treated her most shamefully. She stated that she had been married to William Fredrickson in 1901, and that they had no children. For a while after the marriage all went well, but Fredrickson soon began to drink and kept going down until he finally lost his business and had to depend on his wife for support during his illness. She left him in May, 1905, but returned after a few months. But her husband used her worse than ever and she left him again. She asked that she might resume her maiden name, Lizzie Staut.

Daniel McIntyre sued for a divorce from his wife, Ellen A. McIntyre, on the grounds that she had deserted him and afterwards had taken place in Ontario in 1888 and that they have five children, all minors but one. An old neighbor, who had been affectionate to Mrs. McIntyre before her marriage, came between the husband and wife in later years and broke up the family. The husband asked for the custody of the children.

The case of Edla Willberg against her husband, Frank Willberg, was continued until

The Picnic at Perda

By Mrs. B. M. Croker.

(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Bowles.)
"I suppose," said Miss Aymer, sitting down on a large veranda chair to enjoy the soft light of an Indian moon, "would not this be a splendid night for a moonlight picnic at Perda?"

"Splendid," echoed Capt. Cartnew, taking the stool beside her. "But who is to give it? All our rich folk are up in the hills."

"I will tell you of some one who has never done this," she continued, "and that is the judge. It would be a generous thing if he would give a nice picnic out to Perda. Think of it," she added, lifting both hands, "after a broiling, broiling day, when one cannot stir outside for twelve long hours—a deliciously cool moonlight drive of twelve miles to enchanting Perda. Think of the marble pavilions; the cool, deep tanks, in which one can see one's face; the tempting cool drinks, including champagne—! But here comes the judge now. Oh, if you could only prevail upon him to give this picnic!"

"If I could," said the young man. "I am, as you know, a twenty-third cousin, but you know, I think, I may be able to manage it. Come, now, what do you say, but that I bring it off?"

"I bet you one of my new photographs, and I say that, if you contrive to bring off the picnic," he drawled, taking out a camera and making a snap.

"At this moment a shabby Stanhope phaeton, driven by a withered elderly gentleman in a white drill suit, drew up under the porch.

"Hallo, Cartnew," cried Cartnew, "you are a bit late for whist, aren't you?"

"But I say, why not come in with me, and I will be your spokesman, and you go into the billiard-room, the bridge-room, the reading-room, beat up a crowd, and issue an invitation in your name—short work!"

"All right," agreed the judge, after a moment's hesitation.

A few moments later in the middle of a crowded room stood cheery, gold-looking Capt. Cartnew, the prime mover of station amusements, and beside him stood an unexpected companion that Mr. Tennant.

"Now, this is really too sweet of you," said Mrs. Potts, a pretty little dark-eyed widow. "I simply adore moonlight picnics. How clever of you to think of it!"

"Mr. Tennant, who was somewhat reserved with ladies, merely grinned, and looked embarrassed.

"And who are you going to drive down?" she inquired.

"Oh, I have not thought of that yet," he muttered, dubiously.

"Well, do pray consider it now. What would you think of taking me?" inquired the bold widow.

"My poor little pony would find Perda rather far, and to your fine chestnut horses one small passenger more or less is of no consequence."

"I shall be delighted, I am sure," and he surveyed her with an air of irritated surprise. "Er—how shall we arrange it?"

"Oh, you will call for me, of course. I'm on the direct road. Shall we say a quarter to seven—or half-past six?"

The judge nodded a curt assent.

By-and-by, the nice little speckled and attention he received, Mr. Tennant began to soften and relax, and to tell himself, by a fortunate and very brilliant idea to propose this moonlight excursion.

The happy Saturday—the day of the picnic—began by 8 o'clock sharp, that evening, according to invitation, almost every one of the invited had assembled at 7 o'clock.

It was a truly exquisite Eastern night—the moon hung above the delicate white pavilions, the air was cool and clear, and the moonlight fell on the faded faces of the Cheateport ladies, and even of the Cheateport men—for it had been an unusually hot and

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU BUSY

Nearly 3,000 Men Given Work in Last Five Months.

Some figures given out by P. Haley, manager of the free employment bureau, give some idea of the number of men sent out from this city. During April there were 471 men who obtained work through the free employment bureau. Of these 241 were from this city and the remainder were from points outside. During May 620 found work, 264 being from the city. During June the bureau found work for 559 men, of whom 284 resided in Duluth. During July and August 1,213 men were sent out to work either on the farms in Western Minnesota or for railroad construction work. Of these 600 were residents of this city.

There has been a great demand for men to work on the railroads, this being occasioned by the many extensions being made.

One Northern Pacific representative calls at the free employment office every week and engages from twenty to thirty men for the double-track work which is being done near Fargo. Men for harvesting in the Dakotas and Western Minnesota have also been obtained in great numbers through the Duluth agency.

JOSEPH GALLAGHER LIVES IN CLEARING A WRECK.

Hibbing, Sept. 7.—Details of the death of Joseph Gallagher, who was scalded to death in a wrecked outfit at the Seller mine show that it was most unusual. Gallagher was master mechanic at the Hull mine, and when the wreck occurred there was no engineer to take out the wrecking outfit, so that Gallagher went out with it himself, a very unusual proceeding.

The work of picking up the wreck had proceeded throughout the morning without mishap, when at noon it was necessary to pick up a dump car. Ben Wood, car foreman at the Sellers, was in the pit and hitched the chains to the car and gave the signal to swing to the left, where the car would have found lodgment, after a drop of about two feet. The signal was repeated by the walking boss, but the derrick immediately swung to the right.

Wood is firmly of the opinion that the lever controlling the crane must have slipped, as no sane man would swing the car to the right, where there was a sheer fall of twenty-five feet. This tipped the entire wrecking outfit over into the cave at the right. Why Gallagher did not jump is a mystery, as he had time. Warning was shouted, and the foreman jumped to safety, Gallagher was probably struck by the lever of the engine in falling and knocked unconscious. He was terribly scalded, and died but a few moments after the car overturned. The man had been employed by the Oliver company for several years, and was an excellent workman, highly respected by all.

LATE START FOR DULUTH

Joe Gans Will Not Reach This City Until Monday.

Fighter to Remain at Head of Lakes All Week.

Word was received this morning from San Francisco by W. H. Longstreet, manager of the Metropolitan Opera house, that Joe Gans, the colored fighter, received his ticket too late to start for Duluth last night, but left through Golden Gate this morning to fill his engagement in this city.

It had been planned to have him appear at the "Met" with the Bohemian company on Sunday, but now he will not arrive in the city until too late for a matinee Monday afternoon. Consequently he will not make his first appearance on the stage of the local theater and before the eyes of the local sports until Monday evening.

As a result of the delay, Manager Longstreet has decided to have him remain in the city until Monday. He has been planned to have him go down into the Copper country for the latter half of the week. When the announcement was made that Gans was coming to this city, it seems that he should come first to Duluth when he received advantageous offers from Chicago, St. Louis and other larger cities.

This is very easily explained by Mr. Longstreet. Gans has been engaged by the management of the Bohemian Burlesque to play for ten weeks as a special attraction, with the Bohemians combat the salary of $2,000 a week, or $20,000 for the ten weeks.

Gans begins the fulfillment of his contract in Duluth Monday night. Chicago, St. Louis and other cities will be visited in this regular season.

HIBBING HAS TYPHOID.

Board of Health Urges Caution Upon the People.

Hibbing, Sept. 7.—Hibbing appears to be threatened by a mild epidemic of typhoid fever, there being at least a dozen cases in town. Among those who are sick are Oscar Rudd of the Itasca Mercantile company, George Williams and the son of J. E. Williams.

While there is not serious danger, the board of health has taken hold of the matter vigorously. It is expected that a decision will be reached on the eve of the council at Peterboro. Oficer D. C. Rood has caused a large number of placards to be printed, giving information as to the best way to deal with the disease. These have been posted all over town. It is the opinion of medical men that the fever in this instance is not caused from impure drinking water, but that it is conveyed by flies.

The board of health cautions every one to exercise the greatest care to exclude flies from any access to victuals, particularly milk, and if care is taken in this respect it is believed that the progress of the disease will soon be checked. It is thought that the germs of typhoid have been brought to the surface by the large number of excavations which have been made for new buildings recently.

WHICH COMPANY WILL IT BE?

Virginia Considering Propositions of Street Railway Companies.

Virginia, Sept. 7.—Which company will get the street railway franchise to connect the range towns, continues to be a leading topic of discussion in this county. F. B. Meyers represents the Northern Traction company. When he appeared before the council a couple of weeks ago he wanted an immediate franchise so that rails could be laid on Chestnut street at once, before the street paving is done.

Judging by the ensuing conditions he would not have to hurry to get his road built before the street paving is an accomplished fact, for there is an objection on the part of certain property owners to having this paving done, their claim being that the work will cost more, under the arrangement which has been made, than it ought to cost. They are going to take the matter into court. They have gone so far as to employ an attorney from Duluth, who is going into the records of the street paving ordinance to see if it can not be found faulty.

When F. B. Meyers appeared before the council he agreed to build a mile of road within two years and connect Virginia with Mountain Iron and Eveleth within three years. He said he would furnish a cash bond to carry out his contract and in asking for a franchise presented an ordinance which was presented to the council to consider.

Some people are of the opinion that a new line should pave between the rails, while others think the franchise should be let to the highest bidder. The city attorney has been busy in the preparation of an ordinance to govern the introduction of any proposed street railway and then it can be learned which company would make a contract most advantageous to the city.

EVELETH PHYSICIAN TO WED STILLWATER GIRL.

Eveleth, Sept. 7.—Announcement has been made here of the intended marriage of Dr. Edward M. Gans, a well known local practitioner, to Miss Genevieve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wolf, of Stillwater, the wedding being set for Sept. 26. Miss Wolf is one of the most popular young women of Stillwater society, while Dr. Gans was born and raised in the city in which his fiancée resides, is with the More hospital here.

ROAD BLAMED FOR DEATH.

Declared Grossly Negligent for Not Having Operator at Siding.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 7.—In the inquest over the death of Horace Waters, killed Aug. 29 in a railway collision on the Winnipeg Beach line, the verdict censures the Canadian Pacific railroad in that it was grossly negligent in not having an operator at Clandofoye siding, where the train passed, in view of the fact that the special timecard for Aug. 29 called for the running of the train on that line alone that day. Waters was private secretary to Second Vice-President William Wright of the Canadian Pacific road.

MRS. FRYE GETS DIVORCE.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The wife of Prof. Charles H. Frye, at one time head of the Cook county normal school, and who recently returned to his home after an absence of thirty-one years, was today granted a divorce from her husband. A Mrs. Goddard, twenty years ago, she had been married to Frye, under the name of Goddard, without knowledge of his having a wife. Frye, who was in jail facing a trial for bigamy, was given his release after the granting of the divorce, and in company with Mrs. Goddard, started for Hammond, Ind., to be married. The laws of Illinois forbid the marriage of divorced people within one year from the time of granting the divorce.

WANTED CHIEF'S LIFE.

Man, Iowa, Sept. 7.—With cries of "Hang him, hang him" rising in the air Myrton Tuller, chief of police here, was taken to Fort Dodge last evening to escape the vengeance of a mob which threatened him for the killing of George Dugan of Manson.

At the county fair here George Karns of Sumner and Frank Connolly of Fort Dodge came to blows in an argument over a race which Connolly had won, and Dugan went to Karns' assistance. Tuller interfered and struck Dugan, several blows in the face. Dugan walked a short distance and fell dead.

A crowd at once formed and Tuller was placed under arrest. On the way to jail several tried to take him from the officers, and on that account he was later taken to Fort Dodge in an auto.

Dugan was a popular farmer living near Manson. He leaves a wife and two daughters.

REACTIONISTS ATTACK STOLYPIN FOR REFUSAL TO DROP REFORMS

Associated Press at Moscow, M. Guekoff, Count Heyden and others said they were well impressed with the tone of the premier's note, but unless the distribution of lands, bearing on the peasantry and Old Believers, had a more sweeping effect than anticipated, the coming parliament was apt to be even more radical than the first one.

The re-opening of the universities is practically certain. Meetings of students and the councils of various institutions have adopted the same view as did the revolutionary students of St. Petersburg, yesterday evening, namely, that it is advisable to abandon entirely all obstructive tactics, and to resume the studies, instead of making the universities centers for the revolutionary movement. The government, however, intends to exclude a number of prominent professors from their activity.

NEW ORDER SCARES THEM.

Revolutionists Find Terror Thrown Into Their Own Ranks.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—Since the publication of Premier Stolypin's outline of the government program of dealing summarily with revolutionists, those who have been contributing to the revolutionary press, or aiding the cause in any way, with no fear beyond imprisonment or deportation, are now picturing to themselves black walls and firing squads. It is, how, apparently intended only to make the provisions of the ukase applicable in grave cases, since the military courts are not permanent, and vary courts are not permanent, and must be specially constituted on each occasion. It is probable they will only be resorted to in cases similar to the assassination of Gen. Min and the attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin, where prolonged trials keep the accused persons prominently in the ears and sympathies of the public.

Premier Stolypin's communication speaks so plainly for itself that he needs little comment or explanation of its tone. Its issuance at this moment, on the eve of the council at Peterboro of prominent men of all factions in administration and court circles, called for Sunday next, when it is expected that a decision will be reached on the question whether or not the premier shall have a free hand in the government of the empire, is a significant feature. As most of the measures indicated in the text of the communication have already been fully shadowed, the defiance thrown down to the reactionists at court, in the express mention of pardons advocating a postponement of the reforms, is taken on all hands as being an indication that Premier Stolypin feels himself to be too firm in the saddle to be unhorsed at the coming conference at Peterboro, and that he expects to win his struggle against the postposition of the convocation of the new parliament.

A hint of his conversion to the expropriation of private estates to a limited extent which it is stated has occurred since his assumption of the premiership, is given in M. Stolypin's reference to the agrarian problem. He said he was convinced that the distribution of the crown appanage lands by ordinary purchase operations through the peasants' bank was not entirely adequate. In some, though no tin many provinces, it would be necessary to expropriate land and shake reasonable compensation for it, but his views, the premier added, were not shared by all of his colleagues.

Among the last night of Social Democrats and Social Revolutionist university students it was decided not to oppose the reopening of the universities, which is scheduled for Oct. 14, thereby furnishing a strong possibility that the paralysis of the educational life of the country which has lasted for two school years soon may be ended. Many revolutionary students favored abandoning entirely the obstructive attitude, re-entering the universities and resuming their studies, instead of making the universities "temples for the revolutionary movement" which was the motive behind the short and fruitless resumption of work in universities last year. Among the student masses there has grown up a feeling of resentment against the tactics which are depriving them of education and they show a determination to resume study regardless of any strike decisions. Among the arriving students, however, are many thorough irreconcilables, an extreme example of whom is an 18-year-old youth from Warsaw, who boasts this summer he has killed sixteen policemen or soldiers with his own hand.

WEST DULUTH

MOTIVE IS DISCOVERED

Murder of Fred Mitchell Was Work of Moral Degenerate.

Evidences of Revolting Crime Come to Light at Autopsy.

A motive for the brutal murder of 12-year-old Freddie Mitchell at Burnett, Tuesday, was discovered last evening, when Doctors Graham and Jen performed an autopsy on the body at Peterson's morgue in West Duluth. Evidences of a most revolting and terrible crime which could have been committed only by one whose moral degeneracy amounted almost to insanity, were discovered on the body, and it is thought that the boy knew his assailant and was murdered by the fiend in order that he might escape the consequences of his act. The discovery clears the mystery which has surrounded the motive for the murder, and goes away partially with the mania theory which was held up to this time. Also, on the supposition that the murderer had known his assailant and was murdered to assure his silence, the number of those who might be guilty of the outrage is considerably decreased.

JUDGE MCCREERY

PASSES AWAY

Federal Official Dies in Duluth From Shock Following Operation.

Judge J. T. McCreery, aged 71 years, of the board of reviews of the United States department of the interior, at Washington, died at St. Mary's hospital at 9 o'clock this morning, from the shock following an operation for appendicitis.

Judge McCreery came West to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, when he was taken ill. He came to Duluth about two weeks ago, and was seriously sick for about a week prior to his demise. Before going to the hospital he was with his brother-in-law, R. H. Knapp, of 434 Lonia road.

Judge McCreery was one of the pioneer editors of the country. He published the Dubuque Herald, said to be one of the first Republican papers published west of the Mississippi river.

With Judge McCreery at the time of his death were his widow, his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Bassett Sperry, who is connected with a Pittsburg, Pa., paper in an editorial capacity; Miss Flora McCreery, another daughter, and a grand child.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the body will be taken back East for burial.

DRIVES OUT HIS FAMILY

Stans Tezmionka Goes On a Rampage and Destroys Furniture.

Crying bitterly because their father had driven the family from home and they were afraid to go back, the two little children of Stans Tezmionka, who resides at Third avenue west and Fourteenth street, walked all the way to the police station last evening to seek protection from their drunken and ugly father, and assistance in having him placed under control.

When the officers reached the house, Tezmionka had decamped but was captured soon after in the same neighborhood. The information gathered by the police was that Tezmionka had started on a spree and smashed about all the furniture in the house with an ax, and driven his family to seek protection from the neighbors and the police.

He was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, his case being set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. In default of $30 bail Tezmionka was held in custody. He is said to have had some previous police court experience.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Russell Miller Milling Company Elevator at Valley City Burns.

Valley City, Wednesday night about 10 o'clock the large and comparatively new elevator of the Russell Miller Milling Company at Ipeca burned. The flames started near the driveway and spread over the building. The hall used by the Catholic society there also burned. The elevator was of about 2000 bushels capacity and contained some grain. It will be rebuilt at once.

White Rock—A southbound freight train on the Milwaukee road was cut in two sections by the breaking of a coupling, between here and Blackmore, N. D., yesterday. As the air brakes were applied on this front section the last crashing into the former, with the result that several cars were demolished and several persons hurt, none fatally.

Sioux Falls—At the annual convention of the South Dakota Rural Letter Carriers' association, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, E. B. Swarthout, Sioux Falls; secretary-treasurer, C. G. Moffat, Groton. The office of state organizer was created and E. B. Swarthout of this city was elected to fill it. Madison was selected as the place for holding the next annual convention of the association and Labor day of next year was fixed as the time.

Wilton—Leaving his team in the field where he had been mowing, Fred Granger, aged 20, went into the house, laid down on a cot and placed the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth, the trigger and blew off the top of his head.

Libson—George Losey, suspected of the robbery of the Libson postoffice, has been held to the United States grand jury under $500 bonds. He was taken to Fargo a few days ago and has been in jail since. Losey formerly served time in the Minnesota penitentiary and is at present under $500 bonds for alleged land frauds in Iowa. Losey's career has not been remarkable for its rectitude. He was arrested once on a charge of robbing the Northern Pacific depot at Libson and escaped conviction, though it is claimed he afterward boasted of the offense. He has long been known as an expert in the use of explosives and the officials feel certain they have certain and positive proof of his guilt.

Pargo—Under the new method of taking the school census Cass county shows a great decrease. Under the old law all pupils from 6 to 21, whether attending school or not, were enumerated. Under the new law only those between six and 15 years were counted. There has been a difference of opinion as to whether this means during a period of sixty calendar days or sixty actual school days, the ruling making a lot of difference in some counties.

Ray—John Lafoe, a young man who a few days ago had his arm severed by the steel bar of a mowing machine, is dead of blood poisoning. Lafoe started after the mowing machine by a box of oxen. He was riding the machine when the animals suddenly started and the raised sickle bar came in contact with his arm, severing it below the elbow. Lafoe, who was but 19 years old, showed wonderful strength after the accident, picking up the severed member and with the blood spurting from the stump of his arm, starting to walk to the house. He fell exhausted before the house was reached,

TWO TRUE BILLS ARE RETURNED

Jack Fouri Is Indicted For Manslaughter By Grand Jury.

An indictment was returned this morning by the grand jury against Fred Mayhew for grand larceny, accusing him of having stolen a suit of clothes and other articles from the rooming house of Harry Bradt at Proctor street and having taken them to court to enter his plea tomorrow.

Jack Fouri was indicted for manslaughter in the first degree after four grand jury. He is accused of having killed San Ajilia at Biwabik on Aug. 25. The jury decided that there was nothing to show that the murder was premeditated and did not make it a case of murder in the first or second degree.

No indictments were returned in the cases of W. S. Ormand, James Callahan and John Allen and these three were discharged from custody by Judge Ensign.

READY FOR WORK AGAIN

Children of City Will Return to School Next Monday.

Washington and Irving Districts Will be Crowded.

Next Monday morning, 10,000 children will return to their nine months of toil in the schools of Duluth, after their three months' vacation.

This number is expected to be increased to at least 12,000 before the close of school next June.

Conditions are expected to be decidedly crowded in the Washington and Irving districts for a time. There were a few too many pupils to be accommodated comfortably in these districts last year and the number which they will be called upon to provide for this term is slightly more than before.

In the Irving, Principal Foster is planning to utilize the entire of the halls for recreation rooms and hopes to relieve the pressure in this way, which will measure without exception in the Washington and high school buildings have not yet been decided.

The two new school buildings, the Ely and the Nettleton, are therefore greatly needed and it will be a great relief when they are ready for occupancy, which is expected to be soon after the Christmas holidays.

In the Central high school, Principal C. A. Smith is arranging to receive over 750 students Monday and expects this number to grow to fully 800 before the close of school in June. Of this number he estimates that 100 will be seniors, 150 juniors, 200 sophomores and about 300 freshmen. During the summer a number of improvements have been made in the building, a crew of men having been at work thoroughly repainting the exterior. All the interior woodwork has also been refinished.

Prof. Ulrich of the biological department has been at work in the museum, all summer and has rearranged and reclassified the specimens. This summer he has secured a large number of animals, and all the large animal specimens was completed during the summer, and the specimens are now being prepared for display.

Monday the regular chapel exercises will be held, a little later than usual probably, on account of the late start in the morning. The enthusiastic greetings of reunited school fellows, and the freshmen's fringed search for their respective rooms, and while very little regular work will be done on this day, books will be given out and lessons assigned so that the regular routine will be in progress by Tuesday morning.

There is but one change in the Central high faculty, Prof. C. E. Roe succeeding Prof. Palmer in the commercial department, and all the old "pros" will be back in their respective places on Monday morning.

One of the first events of interest scheduled for the fall term in high school is the visit of Marshall Darrach, in Shakespearean readings, who will come here, Oct. 10 and 12, giving a reading of "The Merchant of Venice" on Wednesday, Oct. 10, and presenting "Macbeth" on the Friday evening. Both lectures to be given in the high school assembly hall. Mr. Darrach has been here a number of times before, and has earned a reputation and popularity which will warrant a full house at both lectures.

At the Irving high school, in West Duluth, about sixty new students are expected back to take up the new sophomore work, which has been instituted there this year, and somewhere in the neighborhood of ninety freshmen are expected to be on hand Monday. Two new teachers, Miss Leola Marcus and Miss Alice Bechtel, have been engaged to assist in instructing the high school department—Miss Marcus taking charge of the mathematics department and Miss Bechtel officiating as instructor in English and Latin.

During the entire week the influx of teachers and principals has been steadily increasing, nearly every train bringing one or more prospective school mistresses to the city, and every one of the 300 teachers and principals is expected to be on hand for the first teachers' meeting of the year, which will be called to order in the high school assembly hall at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The special meeting for high school teachers will follow immediately after the general meeting.

Yesterday a number of those from the grades, who for some reason or other failed to receive a passing mark and the right to enter the high school last June, took their examinations at home in the subject over again Saturday morning. The special meeting for high school teachers will follow immediately after the general meeting.

Upon the results of this examination depends the success of the high school football team this fall, and the number of its most brilliant players are back in one or more subjects.

They have advanced a passing mark the past month, however, and nearly all feel confident of success. The vacation this year has been a month longer than in 1905, and while the extra month has been enjoyed to the utmost, the length of the fall term has been sufficient to make even the most reluctant student glad that there is to be a change, even if it embodies some slight hardships.

WILL STICK TO THE NAVY

Millionaire's Son Determined to Serve Out His Term.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 7.—J. R. B. Rayner Storrs Wells, the New Jersey millionaire, who has just completed a sentence of ten days in the brig on the receiving ship Franklin for absenting himself without permission, is on shore leave, the first time since he landed at this naval station nearly a month ago.

The first thing Wells did after setting foot on terra firma in Norfolk was to go to the Monticello hotel, a fashionable hostelry, and ask for his wife. He was in sailor uniform, and his presence in that exclusive hotel created some excitement. When he explained who he was the waiter paid all attention. While waiting for his wife, Wells said:

"I was in double irons, on broad water. I know nothing of orders being made to get me out of the service. The story that my father will give me $500,000 if I serve out my enlistment of four years is false. I want none of my father's money that way. I believe I am man enough to stick it out. I want to stay in the navy, and am going to do so. There are no family troubles in my household. I like the work given me since I have been out of prison and won't get out of the service unless I am kicked out."

Mrs. Wells, who was Irene Elshop, a chorus girl, had a long conference with her husband. She will remain in this section several days. It is said she is anxious to secure her husband's release from the navy.

THE BOISE CONGRESS

Irrigation Enthusiasts Elect Governor Chamberlain President.

Resolutions Making Many Important Suggestions to Congress.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 7.—Governor Chamberlain of Oregon, was yesterday elected president of the national irrigation congress.

The report of the committee on resolutions as presented to the congress expresses the hope that the governmental irrigation works under construction and in progress will be pushed to an early completion, heartily approves the efficient and thorough work of the federal reclamation service and expresses the fullest confidence in the honesty and ability of that service; endorses and commends the earnest and efficient work of the national weather bureau; commends the work of the federal agricultural department in its irrigation and drainage investigations; recommends that the irrigation congress authorize its president to appoint a commission of five members to carry on a campaign of publicity in relation to irrigation; that the committee be authorized to employ a secretary to try favorably the semi-pledged support of the federal forest service in its efforts to maintain and improve the country's watersheds; favors the passage, with certain amendments, of senate bill No. 424, relating to the relinquishment of reservoir surplus lands; expresses the opinion that government enterprises for reclamation should be carried out in cooperation with prior private enterprises; endorses the federal department of agriculture's extension work in dry farming in the arid regions; recommends the enactment of a federal law prescribing the mode of conducting interference with federal headgates and other irrigation works.

The committee recommended the following resolution in relation to the tariff on sugar from the Philippines: "Inasmuch as the sugar beet industry in irrigated America returns to our farmers an annual revenue of over $20,000,000 and as the production of the Philippine islands is not to produce all or a portion of the sugar of the arid America had hoped to produce."

"Therefore, we protest against any further legislative concessions in favor of Philippine sugar and urge that legislation be enacted to increase the sugar production of this country so that this great industry of arid America may be made self-sufficient in its own needs."

In conclusion the resolutions express thanks to the people of Boise for the manner in which the delegates were entertained and compliment the retiring officers of the congress.

At the instance of persons interested in the Arkansas river litigation and recommendation for adoption by the committee:

"We recommend that the congress of the United States consider the extension of the jurisdiction of the United States courts to provide for the judicial determination of water rights on the Colorado river."

The committee on credentials reported an attendance of 1,250 delegates representing 120 cities.

The claims of several cities anxious to entertain next year's congress were presented. The front door of the first ballot and several cities withdrew. On the second ballot Sacramento, Calif., was elected by a vote of 207 to 155.

The committee on publicity for the congress recommended that the Hon. Porter of California and Messrs Hurd, Arizona; G. R. Reeves, Nevada; Colorado; and E. H. Kay, Montana.

The meeting had been called by a self constituted committee composed of John A. Lovely of Albert Lea, former justice of the supreme court; O. H. Henshaw, member of congress, for the Third district; L. A. Roaming of the state board of control; and Hayden S. Cole, president of the Northwestern Trust company of St. Paul. There were thirty political party present.

Mr. Henshaw, who was elected temporary chairman, in addressing the polytheists, said that it was their duty towards their families to take part in the management of the insurance companies, and that he would make their influence felt in the interest of all concerned.

Carl E. Lovely declared that no $100,000 bonus was required for the position of president of a life insurance company and that this was an extravagance in the administration of the company was not necessary.

High Heels that Help

High heels came into fashion in England during the time of Queen Anne. A court belle is said to have originated the style in order to overcome her lack of height. Through the ignorance of her ladyship's shoemaker, the entire weight of her body was thrown upon her toes, which made her walking both wobbly and insecure. The assistance of servants was necessary to keep her from falling.

While shoes have improved materially, the average high-heeled woman's shoe of to-day is both dangerous and uncomfortable—all for the lack of scientific study of the human foot.

Fig. B illustrates the Gotzian High Heel. Without going into the mathematical method by which we ascertain the exact ratio between the height of the heel and correct shape of the toe of the shoe, we will explain that such a ratio does exist. We can tell you, to the smallest fraction of an inch, what the toe lines and arch should be to correspond with any height of heel, and under exactly what part of the shoe the center of the heel should come.

Thus the fit of the toe and the arch of the shoe overcome the pitch of the high heel and hold the foot snugly in place, preventing its slipping into the narrow front part of the shoe. The tread is firm and square. No danger of turned ankles or a wobbly gait.

Most first-class dealers handle Gotzian Shoes, and will gladly prove this argument by fitting you with a pair. Prices, $3.50 and $4.00.

An interesting and instructive booklet, "How Shoes Are Made," sent free on request. Also shows latest fall styles.

Minnesota State Fair Breaks All Attendance Records. Fifth Day May See Last Year's Total Left Behind.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—By this evening the state fair will be "on velvet," so far as its attendance records are concerned. If the evening crowds keep up to the rate which has been maintained all week the attendance total of last year will be nearly reached and possibly exceeded.

Today was Minneapolis day. It was a sizzler, and the early attendance was disappointing, but toward noon it picked up rapidly, and the indications were for a large day. The arrivals to noon totalled 17,145.

THE LENOX ADDITION

Contractor Roberts Is Rushing Work on the New Improvements.

They Will be Completed by Dec. 1.—Tourist Business Heavy.

The $75,000 improvements to the Lenox hotel will, it is expected, be completed by Dec. 1, and when the summer season of 1907 opens this popular hotel will be in a position to handle twice the number of guests it can now accommodate.

A. Roberts, who has the contract for putting two additional stories on the building, and erecting a five-story addition in the rear, has begun work, and is rushing it through to completion. When finished, the structure will have about 250 rooms for guests. The lobby will be twice the size it is now, and the dining room will be twice its present size. The buffet will be moved into the store room, to the west of its present location, making the extra room for lobby, and the kitchen will be put in the addition to the rear, affording space for the new dining room.

All the Duluth hotels have done a record-breaking business this year, and it is believed that the tourist business will be equally large next season. Many that it has once headed this way, and that the number of transients will grow larger with each succeeding year. The number of traveling men and others visiting the city is also increasing with the remarkable growth of the business interests of Duluth, and there is no doubt that even with the increased capacity the hotels of the city will have all the business they can take care of next year. The Spalding will soon begin making extensive alterations, and it is expected the St. Louis will add to its accommodations this year. The addition to the McKay is wholly completed, and the new rooms are open to the traveling public.

CITY BRIEFS.

Judge Misquoted.—In the account of the opening of the September term of court in the Wednesday Evening Herald, the reporter unfortunately misquoted Judge Engeln, misquoting his statement read "That was about as dirty a calendar as I have ever seen," when he really did say that it was a "sundry" calendar. "Sundry" was used in the article when it should have been "sturdy." All who are acquainted with Judge Engeln know that it is wholly unlikely that he was speaking of court proceedings.

Finds Starving Horse.—Officer Roy Bartlett found a bay bronco hitherto to a tree among the bushes near the lake front at 6:30 yesterday. The animal was so weak from starvation that it could scarcely walk and ate ravenously when taken to a barn and fed. Inquiry made by the officer indicated that the animal must have been led to that place where it was found, but where it was found, the police department is making an effort to find the owner of the animal.

Police Have Target Practice.—Perfect scores were made by Jailor R. Johnson and Officer W. M. Gentry in the monthly target practice of members of the police department yesterday. Jailor Johnson scored 50 points and Officer Gentry scored 47 and Officer E. J. O'Brien scored 47. The scores were a little higher than at the previous shoot, several of the men have been making low scores. They are to be commended for their accuracy.

Mercury Climbs to 89 Degrees at 2 O'Clock.

Glorious Summer Weather Refuses to Relinquish Its Hold.

Duluth's summer may be a little late in getting in its best licks, but it certainly has a hanging on faculty which can scarcely be equalled in any other city in the latitude. When the temperature shoots up to 89 degrees on the seventh of September, as it has today, it is hard to realize that winter is a scant three months away, and Duluthians have suffered from the heat almost as much today as at any time before this summer.

Forecasters Richardson has prepared a table of the average temperatures during the day and they show that it has been one of the season's hottest. Many Duluthians claim that the thermometer on the hill is a very conservative instrument when it comes to recording the heat and cold extremes and when the mercury reaches 89 on the hill tops it is probably several degrees hotter on the streets.

The table of temperatures is as follows: 7:00 a. m. 68, 8:00 a. m. 70, 9:00 a. m. 70, 10:00 a. m. 74, 11:00 a. m. 79, Noon 82, 1:00 p. m. 88, 2:00 p. m. 89. As if to add to the misery of suffering humanity Forecasters Richardson predicts that the temperature will keep up to about the same notch tomorrow and there will probably be very little relief before Sunday. The humidity during the day was 88 per cent.

TO SUIT EVERYBODY. Boston Herald: There is a clerk at one of the hotels in New Haven, Conn., named William Diamond, familiarly called Bill by the traveling men. One evening after dinner a stranger who was stopping at the hotel went up to the counter and asked Bill what time the next morning he could get a train for Waterbury. Diamond, with a countenance like a marble statue, said: "If you are the head of the house you can get one at 7 o'clock; if you are a traveling salesman you can get one at 9:30."
